GUNNAR KASSON TELLS STORY OF RACE TO NOME

Gives Chief Credit to His Lead Dog.

BULLETIN.

Nome, Alaska, Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Although the diphtheria crisis here seemed to have been passed, the board of health has decided to take no chances either of cases here getting out of control again or of their spreading to other communities. Precautions are being taken to use the antitoxin which arrived yesterday by dog team with the best possible results. The board has telegraphed to Gov. Scott C. Bone at Juneau asking him to have the shipment of 1,000,000 units of the serum now en route directed by sending half direct by airplane and the remainder by dog teams.

Gunnar Kasson, for twenty-one years a musher over Alaskan trails, herewith tells his story of the end of the 650 mile race by dogs and men over snow and ice, through blizzards, and across the broken ice on Norton bay in temperature reaching 50 degrees below zero, carrying the twenty-pound package of diphtheria antitoxin to Nome. Kasson made the last leg of fifty-five miles from Bluff to Nome. He describes it as the "toughest" of his long career. His story was obtained by The Tribune through the New York World News Service.

BY GUNNAR KASSON.

(Copyright 1925: World News Service.) [The New York World, by Press Publishing Co.] Nome, Alaska, Feb. 3.—Well, it was a pretty tough trip, all right. The fact is, it was the toughest I've ever had on the trails. I've been mushing Alaska since 1904. But Balto—he's my lead dog—brought us through. He sniffed the trail through the light snow when I couldn't tell where we were, on the trail or off, and kept the direction on the bare ice—the wind had swept it slick as glass—and the wind was coming in so I couldn't see the wheel dog nearest the sled. Balto is a good dog.

[Balto is well known in the Alaskan country. He led Kasson's dogs in 1915 when they won the Moose race. Two years ago he led the dogs which carried Raoul Amundsen north from Nome when the explorer plied from an airplane flight over the north pole. Balto has passed the name of being the best lead dog in Alaska.]

I got into Bluff Sunday morning, sixteen hours before Charlie Olson died. [Bluff is a tiny village on Norton sound in the hollow of the shore on the other side of Cape Nome from the town of Nome.]

Kasson's Dogs Half Wolf. I had thirteen dogs, long haired huskies. They're half wolf. Charlie got in at 8 o'clock at night. He was glad to see me. He had run his seven huskies twenty-five miles from Golofin. His dogs have shorter hair. Every one was frozen in the groin. They came in stiff and sore. They couldn't have gone much farther.

Charlie told me he picked up the stuff from Sappella at Golofin. Sappella had mushed from Shakoltik. That was about sixty miles. Charlie said Sappella with his twenty dogs had a bad trip across Norton bay. The storm was bad there, he said.

Sappella had been warned by officials not to cut across Norton sound, of which Norton bay is a part, because the ice was reported to be breaking up and drifting to sea. They told him to take the much longer way around, by circling Norton bay. (Apparently Sappella, champion musher of the north, preferred speed to safety.) Sappella told Charlie his dogs were still game, although they had mushed eighty miles. He said he used Togo and Scotty as his leaders. (Scotty is a great favorite in Nome.) This Togo is a good dog. He's smart. He knows what you want before you do it. I think he's the best of the string, and they're the fastest in Alaska, they say.

Never Felt Faster Wind. I took the serum from Charlie. He lives at Bluff, an old timer. He owns the quartz mine and stamp mill there. It was blowing so hard and was so cold, I took the stuff into a cabin to get it warmed up and to see if the wind would go down.

But it kept getting colder. It went down to 28 below. The wind was fierce. I don't know how fast, but I've never felt it faster. There wasn't any ice in waiting, so we went. It was then 10 o'clock Sunday night. We had mushed in the cabin two hours. The snow was coming down fast. I

TREASURE FOUND AMID RUINS OF MIDWAY FIRE

Exploring the ruins of the Midway apartment fire yesterday, an undertaker's assistant found the trunk of Miss Dora Jones, the recluse who was killed in the fire.

In the trunk was an Illinois Merchants bank book showing she had deposits there of $1,500. Inquiry at the bank revealed that she held, in addition, 9,066 shares of stock in the Louis D'Oro Mining company, which, a bank official thought, might be worth some $3 a share. This stock is held in escrow in Boston.

Miss Jones lived on the fourth floor of the apartment at 6330 Blackstone avenue. Persistent rumors that she was wealthy had come to the ears of L. W. Roberts, the undertaker at whose shop at 1411 East 60th street her body is held for identification by relatives. Roberts' assistant, Walter J. Bumiller, went to the apartment yesterday morning for a treasure hunt.

In searching through Miss Jones' room Bumiller stumbled, and his arm was driven through the charred paneling of a door. His hand struck the trunk. It was in it keys to a safety deposit box No. 10,235 in the Illinois Merchants bank and a notation that Miss Jones' father's name was Isaac and her mother's Sedalia.

Both admitted, however, that the honeymoon will be spent on an ocean trip and in wandering about Europe.

He has lived there little since then, however, making his winter home at the Virginia and living in the summer in a showplace on the Fox river in Geneva. His first wife died some years ago.

According to reports from Batavia yesterday the marriage was the result of a romance which really got into full swing when Miss Johnson, as nurse in a Geneva hospital, saved Gorton's life in his last night and said they'd been known each other for ten years, although Gorton admitted that he had been ill a year ago in the hospital where Miss Johnson worked.

At Sister's Home.

Anyway, in the humble home of Mrs. A. Swanson, Batavia, a sister of the bride, the 70 year old millionaire and the 37 year nurse, were married yesterday by the Rev. Philip Thelander.

The Rev. Mr. Thelander last night said the wedding is an ideal match.

Miss Johnson attended Mr. Gorton's wife, too, during several years of sickness, and it was only natural that Mr. Gorton, through daily contact, should learn to like and respect the nurse. And the same applies to her.

I see nothing incongruous in a man of 70, he's hale and hearty like Mr. Gorton, marrying a woman of 39.

Edward F. Gorton, retired Board of Trade operator, knew Miss Charlotte Johnson, 39 years old, with only her nurse's salary to get along on, for ten years before he popped the question.

Gorton, former mayor of Lake Forest, was 60 years old when he met her. He was 70 when he stood before a Batavia minister yesterday and endowed Miss Johnson with all his earthly goods and his promise to love, honor and obey.

His face beamed with happiness as they dined last night in the Virginia hotel and on hers was a smile of quiet content. Arrival of reporters plunged both into gloom.

"No publicity, now," the former broker ordered.

"And don't mention my age or that I was a nurse," interrupted Mrs. Gorton coldly.

Both admitted, however, that the honeymoon will be spent on an ocean trip and in wandering about Europe.

SHOTS RING OUT IN SHOW; HERRIN DUCKS TO COVER

Herrin, Ill., Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Fear of another outbreak, temporarily aroused tonight in downtown Herrin, the center of Williamson county's factional strife, was quickly dispelled when it was revealed that several pistol shots were merely blank cartridge explosions in a theater where a "Jesse James" vaudeville show was in full swing.

Startled guests in a hotel across the street, in which Philip Farmer of Eldorado, Ill., was slain last Sunday, were quieted and porters returned to their duties after policemen had discovered the cause of the "gun play."

When the price had dropped to $1.95 the buying support returned but not in time to avert the low point of $1.93%.

The big traders by that time had leaped back into the market and the recovery was rapid. Heavy buying or sellers were received from the same traders in Miami who had been selling short, it was asserted.

The drop in the price of wheat was accompanied by a drop of 25 cents a barrel in the price of flour. Flour went up 50 cents a barrel last week.

Big Drop at Winnipeg.

The low market yesterday was 12 1/2 cents below the high mark of a week ago in Chicago. The situation was even more strained in Winnipeg, the great Canadian wheat market. There the collapse for the day was 8 cents and the difference between the highest mark of a week ago and the lowest mark yesterday was 20 1/2 cents.

The big break in Winnipeg was attributed to selling by country speculators who, it was believed, were largely responsible for the phenomenal advance. Yesterday some of them were buying back the wheat at around $2 which they had sold as high as $2.15.

Opinion among important dealers was that the position of wheat is again strong. Those who predicted the rising prices are as optimistic as ever regarding the distant future, but they do not anticipate a big advance until May and June. They are counting on poor crops from the southern hemisphere and expect the peak of prices to be reached late in the spring or early in the summer.

The slump in wheat was accompanied by a slump in rye. Rye flour dropped 10 cents when the grain had fallen 13 cents below last week's high mark to $1.69 1/2. Later the grain rebounded to $1.73 1/2. Higher corn prices were predicted.

WANTS AN INQUIRY

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—Resolutions for an investigation of alleged market manipulations, which have driven prices of wheat on the Chicago board of trade above the two dollar mark, are to be introduced in the senate this week, according to reports tonight.

A western senator, it is understood, plans to introduce a resolution tomorrow for an investigation by the federal trade commission.

Reports have been in circulation that a bill is to be introduced in the house to prohibit the exportation of wheat or flour until June 30. The purpose, presumably, is to prevent further increase in wheat prices.

SMALL TRADER HIT IN WILD WHEAT MARKET

May Goes to $1.93, Back to $1.98.

The price of May wheat tumbled 6 cents a bushel yesterday to $1.93% in a wild session of the Chicago Board of Trade. Then, when a lot of the smaller speculators had been frightened or forced out of the market, the price bounced back to $1.98, at which the market closed.

For several months the price of wheat had been climbing almost without a break until the peak was reached at $2.05% a week ago today. Speculators had been buying on margin throughout the rise—that is, they put up only a small percentage of the total price of the wheat they had bought for an option on it.

Many on Small Margin.

As the price of wheat mounted the margins were increased. Some brokers recently have asked as much as 40 cents a bushel, but much of the trading has been made on margins of from 10 cents to 25 cents.

Many of those who bought when the price approached $2 became frightened yesterday as they saw signs of losing all they had risked. They sold their holdings. Any who bought at $2.05, for instance, on a 10 cent margin, was wiped out when the price slid to $1.95.

Oldtimers on the board of trade were of the view that most of the small speculators who sold yesterday got out at a profit, although their winnings were not so large as they had expected. Many of these buyers had placed stop-orders with their brokers, instructing them to sell, for instance, when the price dropped to $2.

Market Opens Weak.

The market opened weak yesterday, about a cent below the closing mark of the day before. Many of the large traders had sold their holdings last week and were not supporting the market. There came a rush of selling orders with few buyers. The price dropped and kept on dropping. The collapse was helped along, it was said, by heavy short selling by big traders wintering at Miami, Fla.

When the price had dropped to $1.95 the buying support returned but not in time to avert the low point of $1.93%.

The big traders by that time had leaped back into the market and the recovery was rapid. Heavy buying or sellers were received from the same traders in Miami who had been selling short, it was asserted.

The drop in the price of wheat was accompanied by a drop of 25 cents a barrel in the price of flour. Flour went up 50 cents a barrel last week.

as they come from the cavern, and hoping that his son's "luck," which has carried him through other perils of the caves, will bring him out alive.

The cavern which Collins entered for the first time last Friday in a spirit of discovery is at the apex of a ravine, three hundred yards from the nearest road. Ingress to it is through a plowed field, ankle deep in soil softened by the frosts and thaws of winter, thence over broken sandstone shelving down fifty feet.

A curving entrance forms the opening to this stage of tragedy. A horizontal roof runs back fifteen feet or more. The floor of the stage slopes abruptly. At the left is a narrow aperture, the entrance to the cave which is continually swallowing men bent on rescuing Collins.

A curtain of dripping water flows over the arch of the entrance and forms a muck six inches deep on the floor. The rescuers work back and forth despondently in the muck, with wet and aching feet. When they reach the entrance they must go down on hands and knees and crawl through a crevice soaked with water.

Soaked with water. By the time they have gone a short distance they are soaked with water and covered with red mud, their elbows and knees out by the brittle sandstone and even their ribs bear marks of the jagged stones.

The burrow is zigzagged inside in an "L" like formation. The prisoner lies on a sloping shelf which drops five feet and at this point the passage is scarcely larger than a man's body.

There is no way to reach Collins from the other side. This is unexplored and may prove to be one of Kentucky's most beautiful caves.

Collins tells those who speak to him that here he has discovered a magnificent cavern, the biggest he ever has found.

Discovery Pays for Pain.

This discovery, perhaps, has a great deal to do with Collins' fortune. He is a born cave explorer and has wandered in the dark recesses of these Kentucky caverns since he was a small boy.

"It's in the blood," his father said today. "I've been exploring these caves for forty years and Floyd was born to it. I can understand how he happened to get caught. There was a new passage. It lured him on. He had to find out what was there. He'd done it time and time before. That's the way he discovered Crystal cave."

"And this isn't the first time he's been caught. But he's always come through safe. I believe he will now."

WILL TRY AMPUTATION

Dr. William Hazlett, surgeon on the staff of St. Luke's hospital, left Chicago last night for Cave City, Ky., where he will attempt to perform a surgical operation under uniquely difficult conditions.

Some time this afternoon, Dr. Hazlett, assisted by Dr. Harold Jones, also of St. Luke's, probably will amputate the leg of Floyd Collins, the prisoner of Sand Cave.

Equipped with quantities of special instruments and a variety of anesthetics, Dr. Hazlett is prepared to attempt the operation despite the difficulties attending it.

Handicap to Operation.

The surgeon explained some of the handicaps under which the operation must be performed.

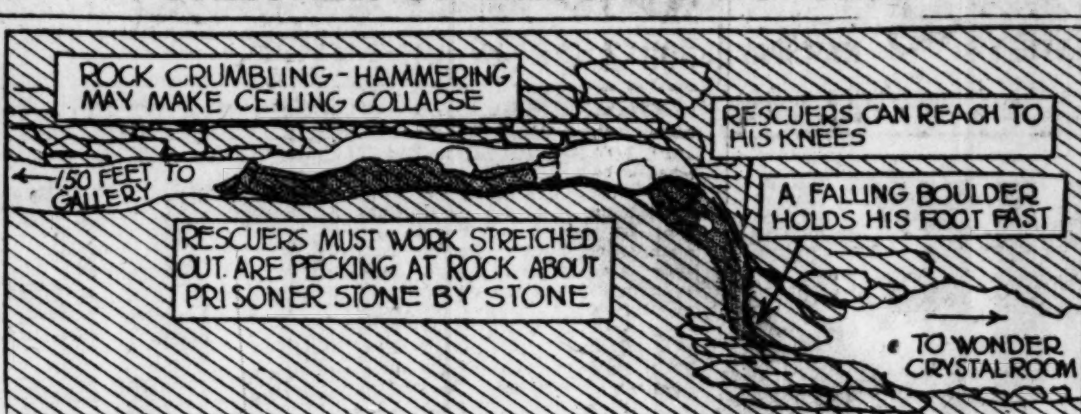

Collins is trapped in a half reclining position in such a way that only his upper leg is within reach of those who have crawled to his rescue. He can give little or no assistance as his arms are partly pinioned.

The light will be poor, at best that afforded by flash lights, and the narrowing of the passage will prevent free arm movement.

"We are especially afraid of an excessive loss of blood on the patient's part," Dr. Hazlett said tonight. "For the amputation will have to be made high, almost to the waist line. Collins, of course, is in a very weakened condition from his position and from exposure. We are making a number of the most recently perfected hemostats, or hemostatic forceps, to retard the blood flow when the knife severs large veins and arteries."

"It will be impossible," the surgeon continued, "to administer general anesthetics such as chloroform or ether. In the narrow confines of the cavern

PRISONER OF NATURE'S DUNGEON

The cross section drawing above shows how Floyd Collins is trapped in Sand cave, near Cave City, Ky. The boulder at his feet holds him tight on his back in a half standing, half lying position, with face upward in a narrow, low passageway. His head is toward the direction from which the rescuers must reach him. They edge along, face downward in the muck of the passage.

CONGREGATION PRAYS FOR RELEASE OF PRISONER IN CAVE

Battle Creek, Mich., Feb. 3.—The congregation of the Central Christian church here united tonight with the Rev. George W. Titus in a special prayer service for Floyd Collins, imprisoned in Sand Cave, Ky. A general prayer service, bringing together all denominations of Battle Creek, is being arranged.

SOCIETY OFFERS PRAYERS.

Prayers for the safety of Floyd Collins, the man trapped in Sand cave, Kentucky, were offered by the Christian Endeavor society of Bethel African Methodist Episcopal church, Grand boulevard and 42d street, it was announced yesterday by the president of the organization, M. E. B. Peck.

the operator probably also would be anesthetized. For this reason we can use only local anesthetics."

There is some fear that Dr. Hazlett will not be able to work his way through some of the "squeezes" in the passage to where Collins is imprisoned. Several rescuers have been unable to make their way through these passages, and when volunteers have been asked for the rescuers designated "small men."

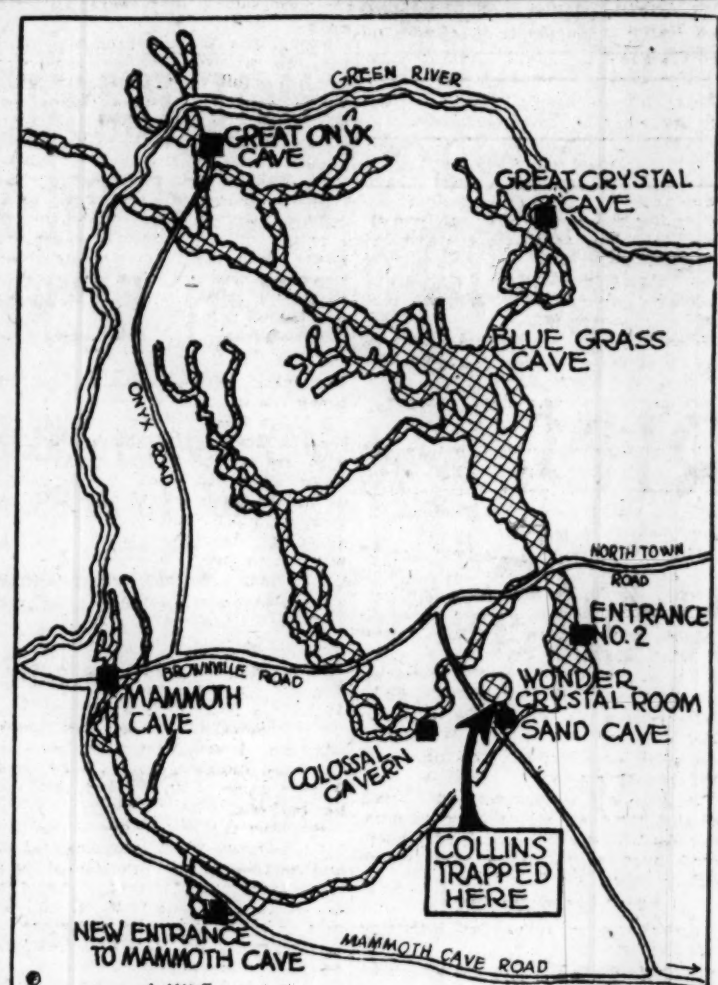

"At Louisville," Dr. Hazlett said, "we shall be met by a special train which will take us immediately to Cave City, where we hope to be able to operate shortly after noon."

The delegation who will meet the doctors at Louisville are representatives of the same company with which the anonymous "friend of St. Luke's," who financed the expedition, is connected.

"Rumor has it," Dr. Hazlett explained, "that this 'mysterious friend' is a woman patient of the hospital. I have never made any such statement. This person, who has been a patient of mine for the last two weeks, became intensely interested in the case, offered to finance the project, and Dr. L. L. McArthur of the hospital asked me to make the trip and perform the operation."

LEADING CAVE EXPLORER.

A. J. Musselman of Glen Ellyn, president of the Blue Grass Country club,

The above map shows the location of Sand cave in which Floyd Collins is imprisoned by a boulder trapping his crushed foot. The narrow gallery is part of the great cave system underlying the entire region in the vicinity of Mammoth cave, in Kentucky.

half a mile from Sand cave, is a friend of several years' standing of Floyd Collins. Yesterday he told how Collins comes to be in his plight.

"Floyd Collins is the leading cave explorer of the Mammoth cave district," he said. "He has spent years underground, looking for new subterranean wonders."

"All his living is made from the caves, and he owns one of the most beautiful caves in Kentucky, Great Crystal cave."

"Floyd has the theory that all the caves of the district, Mammoth cave, Blue Grass cave, Colossal cavern, Onyx cave, Sand cave, and the hundreds of others of lesser importance, are connected by passageways. Ever since he was a child, he has told me he has been working to prove this theory."

"It was in the course of this work I have no doubt, that he was trapped. And it's not the first time he has been trapped; I've known him to be caught in almost the same manner many times. Sometimes he has been held captive three or four hours, but he has always managed to work himself loose."

held the container to his lips, and then asked for the milk. It required some time for him to consume all, as he is not able to eat or drink fast. He is very weak after his more than 115 hour imprisonment and shows plainly the suffering from his left foot, which is held in a small crevice by a huge rock.

Talking Weirdest Collins.

The talking seems to weary Collins, so I started out. I was forced to rest after crawling about fifty feet. This breathing spell enabled me to reach a small compartment about midway from the entrance to the prisoner in fairly quick time. Here I stopped again for several minutes before resuming the most grueling part of the trip. I was mighty glad to be hauled out of the entrance.

I drank a cup of coffee. It warmed me immediately allowing me to enjoy a rest. I was sufficiently refreshed in a short time to start in on the third trip. This time it was to be work and each of us took a deep breath as we were lowered into the tunnel.

Take Out Big Rock.

The first big rock was taken out on this trip. Meanwhile, workmen outside are preparing a jack which will be passed back to me and which, I believe, will enable us to free Collins.

In talking to Collins today I told him it might be possible to save him by using a small automobile jack and using it to raise a few inches the stone which is holding his foot. He took to it at once. Unfortunately there was no jack small enough, but a regular auto jack is being cut down small enough to be used. It is only one more plan, but I believe it will work. We are to try it anyway as soon as I can get it in place under the rock.

GROUP OF SCIENTISTS FINDS OBJECTS WHICH DATE BACK TO 2500 B. C.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 3.—A museum, the property of the daughter of a king of Babylon, who ruled in the sixth century B. C., has been uncovered, and many priceless objects obtained, by the joint archaeological expedition of the British museum and the University of Pennsylvania at Ur of the Chaldees, according to a report made public tonight.

The scientists, who are digging in the buried city of Abraham, in ancient Babylonia, report that the museum contained objects dating as far back as 2,500 B. C.

FARMER, FEARING TRIP TO CHICAGO, HANGS HIMSELF

Morris, Ill., Feb. 3.—Worried because he had been summoned to the federal building in Chicago for grand jury service, Alfred Holmes, a prominent farmer near Braceville, hanged himself in the chicken house of Paul Larkin.

Holmes' only trip to Chicago was once made in an automobile from Morris, which he refused to alight while in the city, and it is believed by his sister that it was a fear of the city that caused his suicide.

HUGHES SILENT ON RESERVATION TO PARIS PACT

Reiterates to Senate U.S.
Is Not Entangled.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—Reiterating his denial that the United States has become entangled in European affairs by its participation in the Paris reparations agreement, Secretary of State Hughes sent to the senate today the official copy of the agreement, and an explanation of its negotiation.

The secretary was silent, however, on the point on which the foreign relations committee of the senate evinced great curiosity. That was the report that Ambassador Kellogg had made a futile attempt to attach a reservation to the agreement to the effect that the United States does not assume any responsibility for any part of the understandings, and that pertaining to payments to the United States.

What Kellogg Asked.

Mr. Kellogg's motive as reported from Paris, was to absolve the United States from any implied obligation to join with Great Britain, France, Italy, and Belgium in forcing Germany to pay, by the imposition of penalties for default. The press report stated that the allied statesmen declined to accept the reservation and that Mr. Kellogg withdrew his proposal and signed without qualification.

Inasmuch as Mr. Hughes fails to explain this detail to the senate it is not unlikely that the irreconcilables will demand that he be called before the committee for questioning.

After summarizing the provisions of the Paris agreement, as already published, Secretary Hughes says in conclusion:

"It will be observed that while provision is thus made for the participation of the United States in the payments to be made by Germany, there is no agreement to limit the amount of the claims of the United States, which as I have said, can only be estimated at the present time.

Not Committed to Action.

"As I said in the statement above quoted, the agreement makes no provision for sanctions and does not commit the United States in any way to any action in case the contemplated payments are not made. Moreover, the agreement itself provides as follows:

"The provisions of the present arrangement concluded between the powers interested in reparations do not prejudice any rights or obligations of Germany under the treaties, conventions and arrangements at present in force.

"In conclusion, it may be said that this agreement was negotiated under the long recognized authority of the President to arrange for the payment of claims in favor of the United States and its nationals. The exercise of this authority has many illustrations, one of which is the agreement of 1901 for the so-called Boxer indemnity."

Grew Out of Dawes' Plan.

Mr. Hughes explained that the Paris agreement was the natural and contemplated consequence of the adoption of the Dawes' committee plan for reparations payments by Germany.

Our war damage claims against Germany, Mr. Hughes estimates at not to exceed $25,000,000. The army of occupation costs total $340,000,000.

In explanation of our participation in the conference the secretary said that "in view of the injurious character of the payments, it was necessary for the United States to take part in the conference to protect its interests."

No Treaty Violation.

"The conference at Paris," he continued, "was not a body provided for either by our treaty with Germany or by the treaty of Versailles. In taking part in this conference there was no violation of the reservation attached by the senate to the treaty of Berlin.

"The agreement at Paris neither surrenders nor modifies any treaty right of the United States," he declared.

MAN DOOMED TO GALLOWS CLAIMS HE'S JEAN CRONES

Inquiry to Be Made
Today Into His Story.

(Picture on back page.)

Efforts are to be made today to determine whether John Kammerer, the ax murderer of Villa Park, is Jean Crones, who poisoned the soup served to those assembled at a banquet in the University club on Feb. 10, 1914, in honor of Cardinal Mundelein (then an archbishop), who had just arrived in Chicago. Sheriff John Hesterman of DuPage county, who has Kammerer in custody pending his hanging, which is set for Feb. 13, has been investigating this theory for three weeks. Last night he refused permission to a representative of State's Attorney Crowe to see Kammerer.

Sheriff Denies Them.

Sergeant Make Mills of the prosecutor's staff, who has for many years been assigned to the investigation of anarchists and radicals, and who was assigned especially to the Jean Crones case, called at the jail in Wheaton. He had with him a man who could identify Crones. Sheriff Hesterman denied them the opportunity.

It is recalled that more than 100 persons became ill at the banquet given for the archbishop. Four died within a few months, but their deaths were not traced directly to the arsenic which Crones had put in the bouillon. Crones was known as an anarchist and a religious fanatic. He escaped. Since Kammerer's conviction on the charge of murdering the entire Eder family, father, mother, and three children, statements of his indicated he might be Crones.

He, too, is a religious fanatic. Dr. H. S. Hulbert, an alienist, testified Kammerer told him there were three other persons he wanted to kill. They were the Catholic Archbishop of St. Louis, who refused to let him study for the priesthood, Bishop Hoban of Chicago, who, he said, had insulted him, and the Rev. William McNamee, pastor of St. Patrick's church in Chicago, who had refused to do a favor for him.

Pictures Are Compared.

Pictures of Kammerer were compared with Crones' pictures. They showed similar features and a resemblance.

Kammerer says he does not want to escape the gallows. He has told his lawyers he is satisfied to die; that he wants them to do no more for him.

Dr. Hulbert was reported as being active in a movement to procure a stay or commutation from Gov. Small for Kammerer, on the theory that he is insane and therefore shouldn't be hanged, but should be confined in an asylum. He is said to be of the opinion that Kammerer is Crones.

DE MARTINO WILL DISCUSS ITALY'S
WAR DEBT TO U.S.

ROME, Feb. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—Italy has no intention of repudiating her war debts to the United States. Indeed, the newly appointed Italian ambassador to Washington, Giacomo de Martino, who will reach America next month, will have full instructions to discuss this question with the American government. This far Italy has made no proposal for a settlement; therefore the conversations on the subject will not in any way be prejudiced.

The Italian government has been busily engaged on internal financial reconstruction, and has not been able to make any plans concerning Italy's foreign debts, especially that to the United States, which the latest annual report of the secretary of the treasury fixed at $1,647,000,000, in addition to $449,477,924 accrued interest.

As regards war debts to England, Italy has concluded an arrangement with the British government whereby each year, as the interest falls due, interest-bearing bonds are turned over to cover interest payments, so that the interest on the debt to Great Britain is drawing interest, or in other words, Italy is paying compound interest.

Carefully packed away in the Cardinal's luggage are newspaper clippings and pictures, and a moving picture film of his reception when he returned to Chicago after receiving the red hat. He will show them to Pope Pius as proof of the gratitude and appreciation of the citizens of Chicago for the dignity conferred on one of their clergymen.

ASKS MITCHELL TO EXPLAIN OR LOSE HIS RANK

Weeks Calls General on the Carpet.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, who has become the stormy petrel of a row among army and navy officers over the relative importance of air craft in warfare, must explain to Secretary of War Weeks some of his statements about the airplane.

The secretary revealed today a decision on the reappointment of Gen. Mitchell as assistant chief of the army air service. If the decision is against reappointment, the officer will lose his temporary rank as a brigadier general and revert to the grade of colonel. His term at his present post expires March 26.

The general several days ago declared that recent air bombing experiments had so badly jarred a battleship a mile and a half away from the explosion that she had to go into port. Secretary Wilbur promptly presented the committee with a statement by the commander of the ship in question denying the story.

Later Gen. Mitchell told the committee that officers were afraid to tell the truth about the efficiency of air craft, and that officers who gave testimony contrary to the views of superior officers were likely to be disciplined "indirectly." He was appearing in favor of the Curry bill, proposing creation of a unified air service, a measure opposed by both Secretary Weeks and Secretary Wilbur.

SHEPHERD, HERE FOR QUIZ, SAYS HE'LL SUE OLSON

All Sides Prepare for McClintock Probe.

Mr. and Mrs. William D. Shepherd, Miss Estelle Gehling, and Chief Justice Harry Olson, chief characters in the drama, the curtain of which rose with the death of William Nelson McClintock, wove their plot into a pattern still more intricate yesterday.

Shepherd returned to Chicago, hostile to Judge Olson and resentful of Miss Gehling, the nurse who made public the letters she alleges Shepherd wrote her during a seven year love affair. He reiterated the announcement that he would sue Judge Olson for libel. He termed Miss Gehling's act in turning the letters over to the investigators unwarranted.

Miss Gehling's retort was a declaration that she intended to take some legal action against Shepherd if he discussed her to her disadvantage.

Olson Has New Evidence.

Judge Olson announced that he had some interesting evidence which would be sprung at the proper time, which he said would be at the coroner's inquest which reconvenes Feb. 19.

Mrs. Shepherd was the only one of the important actors who had nothing to say. And she, according to Shepherd, knows nothing about what is going on, not even about Miss Gehling and the publication of letters.

The Shepherds arrived yesterday morning on a Santa Fe train from Albuquerque, N. M., where they had been staying with friends. But it was not until late afternoon, that Shepherd had anything to say.

He sat on the glassed-in sun porch of the home at 341 Melrose avenue, Kenilworth, where he and Mrs. Shepherd lived with "Billy" and where "Billy" died last Dec. 4.

Will Sue Judge Olson.

And he gave forth the following statements:

"I certainly am going to sue Judge Olson."

"I believe the will and the money are at the bottom of this whole thing, and that those chiefly interested in the in-

NEW "MISSING LINK" SKULL IS FOUND IN SOUTH AFRICAN WILDS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, Feb. 3.—What is believed to be the missing link has been discovered in South Africa. It is a skull of a creature which was neither anthropoid ape nor human being, but an intermediate between both forms of brain power.

The discovery was made by Raymond Dart, professor of anatomy in Watersrand university, last November in a lime cliff nine miles southwest of Gaugha, Bechuanaland. It was buried at a depth of fifty feet. The find included fossilized bone and a cast of the brain and bones, impressed in the limestone.

Prof. Dart, who has been investigating his discovery at Johannesburg, said the skull was that of a creature which was not a human being, yet was much more intelligent than the gorilla or chimpanzee, which are the highest type of living apes. This creature was unable to talk, but had brains sufficiently advanced in the direction required by one whose offspring would ultimately attain the power of speech. The new discovery was made nearly 1,000 miles south of where the oldest skull of creation was previously found.

Investigation expect to profit if they can break the will.

Judge Olson believes, according to reports, that I had something to do with the death of his brother, Dr. Oscar Olson. If Judge Olson had cared as much about his brother as I did then he might talk. Dr. Olson once asked to borrow money from his brother in order to put over a real estate deal. Judge Olson refused the loan, then went out, put over the deal, and made the money himself.

Sorry About Letters.

"I am sorry the letters to Miss Gehling got out. A man does not like to be made a fool of. She was my nurse in the hospital several years ago. On my recovery, I went out with her, with Dr. Olson and another girl, a few times. Then I came to myself and quit. She has bothered me ever since.

But Miss Gehling scoffed.

"I believed everything he told me, and he treated me very fondly for all those years," she declared. "And then, he wrote that last letter to me and said he couldn't see me any more. If he gets nasty I'll show him that I can be just as nasty, too.

"I can look back now and remember incidents that show that Shepherd wasn't the wonderful man I thought him," asserted Miss Gehling.

REALTY MEN HEAR MAYOR'S PLANS FOR TRACTION

Warns Inaction Means Trouble Ahead.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Mayor Dever painted a vivid picture for the Chicago real estate board members yesterday noon of dire things which will happen if his transportation program fails of adoption.

"The surface lines franchises expire in 1927," he said. "Then $110,000,000 in securities will be due. They cannot be paid. It will be a time of disaster. The companies cannot get a new franchise. They do not want a twenty year franchise. That period is too short to finance the undertaking. They wake up to that eight or nine years ago. That has been burned into their souls. They want a franchise for forty to sixty years. That is impossible under the present law. They inevitably will fail to get that law changed.

Then Comes Trouble.

"If the franchises expire without an agreement they will be in trouble—serious trouble. Then will come federal receiverships. There is abundant history that security holders lose money under receiverships. Their investment is dissipated and it disappears. At the same time the city will be hurt badly. Under a receivership we cannot hope for subways, extensions, and improvements."

The mayor recited several benefits which he claimed would accrue from the adoption of his plan. His picture appeared to make a distinctly favorable impression with the real estate men. They applauded vigorously when he asserted: "It has been urged that we spend our $40,000,000 in the traction fund for subways. That is foolish. That $40,000,000 will not be spent while I am mayor until we know in advance who will use the subways, what rental they will pay and what the terms of operation will be. That $40,000,000 is our club and we will keep it."

The mayor boasted by $50,000,000 the amount of contemplated expenditure under his plan. He placed the total between $150,000,000 and $200,000,000, although all previous discussions have placed the maximum at $450,000,000.

Two Things to Remember.

"In considering transportation," continued the mayor, "keep two facts always in mind, whether you favor or are opposed to municipal ownership. First, no matter what plan is adopted, no adequate transportation can be obtained without an enormous amount of money. If you adopt the plan now pending, or the railway district plan, or any other, millions must be obtained. No plan will get the money unless the money lenders are convinced that that program will insure the return of the cash when due and pay a reasonable interest charge on its use.

The second fact is, that the plan must be approved by the public before it can become operative. We believe we have such a plan. The money lenders have approved the main features of the ordinance pending before the council committee."

The mayor followed with a remark which may cause him trouble in the local transportation committee. He said that the price to be paid for the surface lines has not been agreed upon. He added that he had taken the position sometime back that the $162,000,000 was too high, without saying exactly where he stands today. Members of the committee are reasonably certain to refuse to vote the ordinance out of the committee until the mayor indicates what price he will approve. A vote for the $162,000,000 price disapproved by the mayor would leave the aldermen open to attack.

GOUST GALLIGAN, WILLIAMSON'S PLEA TO SMALL

Sheriff Refuses to Quit
Office.

Marion, Ill., Feb. 3.—(Special.)—Sheriff George Galligan and the Williamson county board of supervisors today came to a parting of the ways. The board demanded that Galligan resign, declaring that was the only hope for peace in Herrin and the county. This the sheriff refused to do. Then the board appointed a committee to wait on Gov. Small and ask the ousting of Galligan.

The demand for his resignation came after a committee of supervisors had been closeted with the sheriff and had failed to attain the compromise for which the conference was called. Galligan was offered $4,400 to retire, the sum representing his salary for the remaining twenty-two months of his term.

Tell Small No Troops Needed.

The board did not wait for the outcome of these negotiations. After selecting a committee of five to confer with Gov. Small it dispatched the following telegram to the governor and Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black:

"The members of the county board of supervisors of Williamson county are not concurring with George Galligan, sheriff, as reported in the newspapers. We believe his resignation or removal is the only means of bringing peace to Williamson county. Troops or martial law unnecessary at present."

Meanwhile Lefe Farmer of Eldorado, Ill., appeared in Herrin and identified the body of the man slain there by a policeman Sunday morning as that of his son, Philip, 28. Arrangements were made to take the body to Eldorado.

Bad companions, liquor and a desire to fight were blamed by the father who took his son's death stoically, as something he had expected.

"Phil was a fighting fool," Farmer said. "He was absolutely fearless and often considered coming to Williamson county and mixing in the trouble here. He was a member of the anti-slavery faction in Eldorado."

Must See Galligan—Small.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Deputy Sheriff Randall Parks of Williamson county arrived here today with a letter from Sheriff Galligan to Gov. Small. The governor advised Parks he wanted to see the sheriff and not a representative.

EVERYBODY HAS A BIBLE—OUT IN LAKE FOREST

And That's Why Stores
Don't Carry Them.

Mrs. Lillian Emerson, who gave the Voice of the People department of THE TRIBUNE a scoop over the news department when in a letter she charged that there isn't a store in Lake Forest carrying the Bible in stock, was found yesterday to be 100 per cent correct.

Investigation by reporters verified the fact that Chicago's richest suburb, where millionaires are as common as whiskers in Russia, has no store which offers the Scriptures at public sale.

But there's a reason.

A Bible in Every Home.

Two ministers explained that every family in Lake Forest, to their knowledge, already boasts of at least one Bible. A store that carried a stock of Bibles, they said, would have as much luck as an ice cream in Labrador. Not only has every Lake Forest home a Bible, but one minister has nine, in as many different languages. He is the Rev. George Roberts of the Presbyterian church. And A. Duan Jackson, city collector, has Bibles in seven languages.

Mrs. Emerson wrote a letter to the Voice of the People column, in which she said: "There isn't a place in Lake Forest where you can buy a Bible. The twenty-third chapter of St. Matthew, ninth verse, explains our present state of affairs."

But, Should You Want One—
But, although no Lake Forest store feels inclined to invest in Bibles, they can be obtained through Mr. Roberts or the Rev. Stuart B. Edmondson, of the Methodist church. Either will get them for any order, and, in addition, both the Presbyterian and Methodist churches give the Book away to parishioners who feel they can't afford to pay.

For the benefit of those living outside the Scriptural precincts of Lake Forest, it might be added that the quotation to which Mrs. Emerson referred is:

"And call no man your father upon earth: for one is your Father, which is in heaven."

HOMECOMING DEATH ACCIDENTAL.

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a coroner's jury yesterday inquiring into the death of George Kern, 54 years old, of Homewood, Ill., who was killed when he was run over by a locomotive.

OLSON SAYS LYLE VIOLATED LAW BY EXCESSIVE BAIL

Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court last night flatly rejected the appeal of the Better Government association to restore Judge John H. Lyle to the South Clark street court.

The judge transferred Judge Lyle from that criminal branch to a civil court last week. The bail of $100,000 for each charge of robbery with a gun which Lyle had demanded while hearing criminal cases was excessive and in violation of the law, Judge Olson maintained.

The better government committee of seven, headed by E. J. Davis, former Anti-Saloon league, visited Chief of Detectives Schoemaker and Capt. John Stige in the detective bureau before calling upon Judge Olson. Judge Lyle attended this conference, at which the police officers are said to have commended Judge Lyle's conduct as an effective deterrent to crime.

Then, while Judge Lyle conferred with Chief of Police Collins in the city hall the delegation invaded Judge Olson's chambers.

Judge Olson heard their request and then explained that the state Supreme court had repeatedly held that bail such as Judge Lyle had fixed was excessive. Judge Lyle, the chief justice insisted, could be removed by the state legislature for violating the state constitution.

Mr. Davis started to protest that the interests of citizens should not be ignored in protecting the rights of criminals.

"I don't believe any bail should be allowed a criminal," Mr. Davis asserted.

Judge Olson seized him by the lapels of his coat.

"You are under arrest," the judge cried. "Your bonds are set at $2,700,000."

"But—but I didn't do a thing. I am innocent," Davis said, apparently convinced the judge was in earnest.

"I know you are; but so are many of the persons, probably, whom Judge Lyle kept locked up. Just a few days ago he fixed bail for one man at $2,700,000. In this country, Mr. Davis, a man is believed innocent until he is proved guilty and he should not be forced to remain in jail until he is proved guilty."

Judge Olson added that Judge Lyle violated the law in holding two detectives in contempt in a recent case, and denied a statement of the committee that the merchants in the South Clark street district favored Lyle's regime.

Mr. Davis indicated, as he left the judge's chambers, that he would continue his efforts.

STATE WILL GO LIMIT IN TRIAL AGAINST STOKES

Mass of Evidence Ready for Plot Case.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe will be in Judge William N. Gemmill's court this morning at 10 o'clock when W. E. D. Stokes, aged millionaire New York hotel owner, and central figure in more than a score of court battles, begins his fight to keep out of the penitentiary, where the state of Illinois seeks to send him, on a charge of conspiracy to defame the character of his former wife, Mrs. Helen Elwood Stokes.

And the state's attorney will be on hand throughout the progress of the trial, which promises to present not only a cross section of the marital difficulties of the pretty young wife and the old, old man, but also a segment of the recent life of Chicago of two decades ago.

Smiths in Direct Charge.
State's Attorney Crowe will not take active charge of the prosecution, which he has delegated to Assistant State's Attorney William W. Smith and Wilton D. Smith. But he plans to be a constant attendant at the trial.

Part of that mass of evidence was piled high yesterday in the office of W. C. Dannenberg, special investigator for Mrs. Stokes in her efforts to prove her husband's conspiracy with his attorney, Daniel Nugent, and several colored habitués of the old red light district, to prove that she was once an inmate of the famous Everleigh club.

Photograph albums, pictures, films, even bits of wall paper and a spindle-legged chair form part of the exhibit, which Dannenberg and the Smiths were going over yesterday.

The chair, with its curious knobs and its unusual spindle legs, was shipped recently from the home of Mrs. Stokes' mother, 851 Clarkton street, Denver. Its significance, according to Prosecutor William Smith, is this:

"One of the pictures of Mrs. Stokes which Mr. Stokes took to former owners and patrons of Chicago's dives, was a photograph of his wife seated on this chair. Mr. Stokes, I understand, made a tour of Chicago's underworld, trying to locate the chair. I did locate that very chair last week. Out in the home of Mrs. Arthur Miller, Mrs. Stokes' mother. And it's going into court."

Wall Paper Episode.
The wall paper episode refers to a series of pictures depicting Mrs. Stokes and three other girls, reclining on a bed, wall paper of a vivid distinctive design showing in relief behind the bed.

Here again, according to Mr. Dannenberg, Mr. Stokes endeavored to search out the wall paper in notorious south side houses of twenty years ago.

"But here," producing an album of pictures, "we have the original series of pictures. There's the wall paper. And we are prepared to prove that it was on the wall of Mrs. Stokes' bedroom at National Park seminary at Washington, D. C., which she attended as a girl."

Allege Grease Money.
Another document, revealed yesterday for the first time, is the alleged duplicate of a record of expenses turned over to Stokes by Joseph Brunner, said to be one of Stokes' investigators.

This document, in the hands of Dannenberg and the Smiths, is headed: "Grease Money Expended, and by Whom."

The total account is $4,245. And one paragraph contains this:

"Items of July 30, of 1900, of Aug. 1, and $300 or Aug. 10, represents amounts paid over to Joe Brunner by Nugent, which, in turn, were turned over as grease money afterwards, and are also accounted for in the statement of grease money, said amounts there listed as grease money paid by Nugent indirectly."

Mrs. Stokes Coming.
Attorney Charles Erbstein, associate counsel for Mrs. Stokes in her divorce suit of a year ago, will attend the trial, as will Mr. Dannenberg, in order to give any assistance in the matter of investigation, data, and of exhibits to the state. Mrs. Stokes is now in Denver, but will leave immediately upon telegraphic advice from Erbstein and Dannenberg. They do not expect to wire for her until this noon, and she is expected to arrive here Friday morning.

Co-defendants with Stokes in the conspiracy charge are: Daniel P. Nugent, Robert Lee, colored, and Hattie Johnson, colored. Joe Brunner has obtained a severance. And Henry Tape, the sixth member of the alleged conspiracy, has not yet been apprehended.

36,868 VOTERS REGISTER; COST NEAR $225,000

Voters numbering 36,868 who have moved since the November presidential election or who have attained their legal majority since that time and who wish to vote at the Feb. 24 aldermanic election, registered yesterday. The small registration and its cost to the taxpayers—placed at nearly $225,000—is an emphatic argument for revision of the election laws, according to members of the board of election commissioners.

Skids in Park.

Two more deaths were added yesterday to the county's toll of motor deaths.

Joseph Brain, 17 years old, 5907 Eggleston avenue, was fatally injured while crossing Parkers avenue at 41st street, when he was struck by an automobile.

Injuries received on Jan. 1 caused the death in the county hospital of Michael O'Leary, 24 years old, of 3250 Archer avenue. He was found injured in front of his home and never regained consciousness. Police believe he was struck by an automobile.

Howard Willett, whose residence is at 3400 Sheridan road, and who is the son of the head of the teaming company, with two companions was injured last night when his automobile skidded and almost rolled into the lagoon in Lincoln Park.

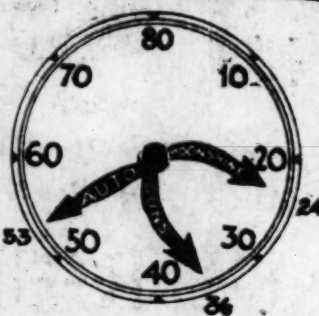

The young men with Willett were Robert St. Julien, 2349 Cambridge ave., and Willis Arson, of the Ambassador hotel.

Willett was driving. As the auto sped across the jackknife bridge on the east drive he turned out for another car. His auto skidded and turned over. It's progress was stopped by a concrete post in the fence which guards the lagoon.

Passing policemen commandeered a car and took the three young men to Columbus Memorial hospital. Doctors said their injuries were not serious.

A coroner's jury investigating the death of Ludwig Etkorn, 79 years old, 3046 West 32d place, yesterday held to the grand jury, on charges of manslaughter, Peter Dubakaitis, 648 West 119th street, whose automobile struck and killed Etkorn.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the thirty-fourth day of 1925.

SON TESTIFIES LINCOLN NEVER BURNED BODIES

Defends His Father at Murder Trial.

Geneva, Ill., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—John Lincoln, lad of 20, took the witness stand in Judge William J. Fulton's court today in defense of his father, Warren Lincoln, who is being tried for murder. The elder Lincoln is accused of slaying his wife, Lina, and her brother, Byron Shoup, and of putting their heads in a cement block.

John Lincoln's testimony was a surprise to the prosecution and to the 300 spectators. His father once confessed he killed his wife and her brother on the night of Jan. 10, 1923, and that during the next nights he burned the bodies in the greenhouse furnace.

"I was home all three nights," said John, on the stand. "I was in the greenhouse playing cards and my father slept with me in the greenhouse. I looked over the house on the night of Jan. 11 and saw no bodies. I went to the bedroom for powder after shaving and there were no signs of a murder there."

"And my father never burned any bodies in the greenhouse. He slept with me there on the nights he says he burned the bodies."

Twelve witnesses testified for the defense today. They were friends, relatives, acquaintances, and physicians who know or have examined Lincoln. All said he was insane.

"I knew he was insane after my examination," said Dr. Joseph Springer, coroner's physician of Cook county, and a similar statement was made by Dr. E. C. Van Hook of Mount Pleasant. Other witnesses, some of whom had known the lawyer-homicidalist all his life, called the defendant insane.

Mrs. Peter Tremulus, wife of an Aurora florist, said she saw Mrs. Lina Lincoln on the streets in Coronado Beach, Fla., three months after the day Lincoln is accused of having committed the murders.

Put Fayro in your Bath tonight and Reduce 2 to 4 Pounds

Do you really want to Reduce? This is the easy, sensible and harmless way to do it. No medicine, no exercise, no diet

HERE'S PROOF

Read what Fayro Baths have done for others

"Three Fayro baths reduced my weight 11 pounds in 8 days. I feel better than I have felt for years."

"I weigh 16 pounds less and feel younger and sleep better. Fayro is wonderful."

"My double chin vanished in the magic of Fayro baths."

"My hips were always too prominent until I commenced Fayro baths. I have lost 12 pounds."

"Thank you for Fayro. I lost 14 pounds in three weeks, feel better and certainly look better."

"Since childhood my thick ankles have always been a source of embarrassment. Fayro baths have reduced them beautifully. Thank you very much."

For obvious reasons, names are not quoted, but every letter published has been authorized and names and addresses will be given on request.

Results Are Guaranteed

If Fayro does not reduce your weight from 2 to 4 pounds, your dealer has been authorized to refund your money without a question. You risk nothing. Try Fayro tonight.

THOUSANDS of smart women have found this easy way to take off 2 to 4 pounds once or twice a week. These women take refreshing Fayro baths in the privacy of their own homes.

Fayro is the concentrate of the same natural mineral salts that make effective the waters of twenty-two hot springs of America, England and Continental Europe. For years the spas and hot spring bathing resorts have been the retreat of fair women and well groomed men.

Excess weight has been removed, skins have been made more lovely, bodies more shapely and minds brighter.

The Hot Springs Are Now Brought to You

Painstaking analyses of the active ingredients of waters from twenty-two of the most famous of these springs have taught us the secret of their effectiveness. You can now have all these benefits in your own bath. Merely put Fayro into your hot bath. It dissolves rapidly. You will notice and enjoy the pungent fragrance of its balsam oils and clean salts.

Then, Fayro, by opening your pores and stimulating perspiration, forces lazy body cells to sweat out surplus fat and bodily poisons. Add Fayro to your bath tonight and immediately you will lose from 2 to 4 pounds in an easy, refreshing and absolutely harmless manner.

Ask Your Physician

Your physician will tell you that Fayro is certain to do the work and that it is absolutely harmless.

Fayro will refresh you, and help your body throw off worn out fat and bodily poisons. Your skin will be clearer and smoother. You will sleep better after your Fayro bath and awaken tomorrow feeling as though you had enjoyed a week's vacation. For years Fayro has been used to relieve rheumatic pains, break up colds and tone up the system. Try this remarkable hot springs treatment. If you are not delighted, get your money back.

Lose Weight Where You Most Want To

Fayro reduces weight generally, but you can also concentrate its effect on abdomen, hips, legs, ankles, chin or any part of the body you may wish.

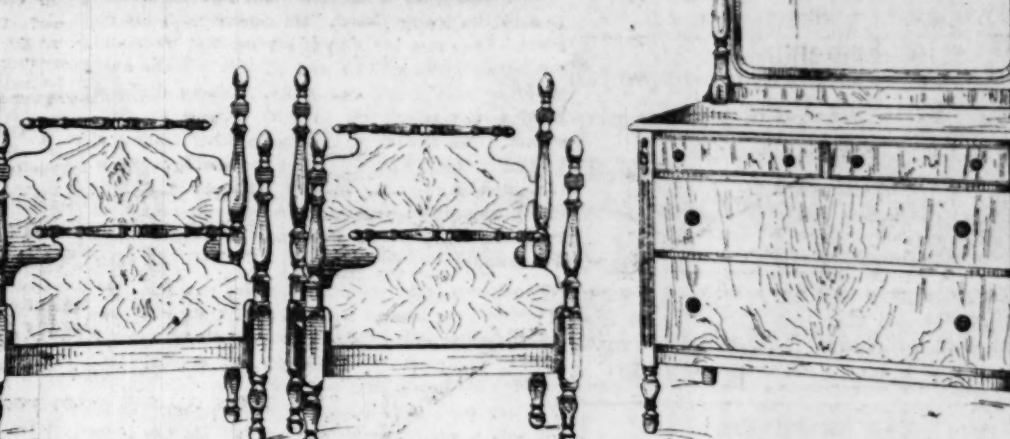

Results Are Immediate

Weigh yourself before and after your Fayro bath. You will find you have lost from 2 to 4 pounds. And a few nights later when you again add Fayro to your bath you will once more reduce your weight. Soon you will be the correct weight for your height. No need to deny yourself food you really want. No need for violent exercise. No need for drugs or medicines. Merely a refreshing Fayro bath in the privacy of your home.

Prove Fayro Tonight

All good drug stores and toilet goods counters now have Fayro. Complete directions and a sensible, well written booklet, "Health and Open Pores," come in each package. The price is one dollar. Prove Fayro tonight.

DYING AUSTRIA.

The treaty of Saint Germain destroyed the Austro-Hungarian empire. Its place was taken by what were called the successor states, new countries supposed to be on an ethnic base and to follow the principle of self-determination. Austria was made one of these, being cut down to about 6,000,000 people, mostly German, living in and about Vienna.

It immediately began to die. For it the first years after the war were even more terrible than they were for Germany. Except possibly for the Italians no one had any hereditary hatred of the Austrians, but if the treaty makers had picked them out for extermination this was the way they would have gone about it.

The spectacle of a cultured nation dying of starvation and in about its formerly light hearted capital affected some of the destroyers, and the leaders of nations tried to put Austria on its feet by providing money, stabilizing the currency, and stimulating production.

For a while the league chalked Austria up to its credit as a success, but now it is conceded that the "thing is a failure." Dr. Zimmerman, the league's commissioner, reports that the country is headed right back into economic ruin and chaos with all the suffering which prevailed before. Austria cut off as the treaty makers doomed it is gone.

The Austro-Hungarian empire had no national unity but a wise European once said that if Austria did not exist it would have to be invented. The various peoples in it hated each other. The stronger oppressed the weaker. Efforts were made at the extinguishment of languages, particularly against the Bohemians. There was bitterness, political outrage and confusion, but the empire worked in spite of that. It was an economic unit and its people could live prosperously in their relations together. The Zollverein had bound the German states together before the creation of the German empire and economics held the Austro-Hungarian empire together in spite of its disintegrating racial and national elements.

The men who made the treaties of Versailles and Saint Germain were determined to destroy. They had as an excuse the desire of the various peoples, the Czechs, Serbs, Croats, Slovenes, Magyars, etc., to lead a representative national life. Czechoslovakia found it could stand on its feet. Hungary was almost torn to pieces by the Reds, the Roumanians, and its own monarchists. Austria turned to the wall to die. Nearly half of its population is in a half dozen cities. Vienna contains a third of the nation. Cut off and isolated it cannot live. It must be attached to something and its destroyers now are discussing that.

By kinship Austria might want to go to Germany and that has been proposed. It is supposed France will not consent. It would add 6,000,000 Germans to the German republic and it is French policy to contain Germany as repressively as possible.

It may be allowed to enter a confederation with Hungary and Czechoslovakia. A financial union with Hungary will be considered first and later a customs union of the three states, an attempt to restore the economic unity on which the old empire was based.

This union would have the agricultural and mineral lands required for competent national life. There is another suggestion that Austria be attached to Italy. Austria had Italy largely attached to itself as the Italians recall and they now have some unhappy German Tyrolians within their new borders in territory which the treaty makers handed over without compunction for the people involved. The Austrians might prefer to let nature take her course rather than go to Italy.

The treaty makers of Versailles and Saint Germain created an inhuman document and a fatal peace. Americans may have pride in the fact that the United States would not accept that peace. It was asked to endorse the treaty of Versailles, and the American senate saved the day and we think saved the country from complicity in a bad peace, the consequences of which are not even yet discernible.

JAIL FOR A GLASS OF BEER.

Mr. Volstead (in person) says the Stalker bill is a good thing. That is the bill which the dregs in congress want to make it mandatory for a judge or jury in the federal court to send a Volstead offender to jail. Now there is discretion. He may be fined or sent to jail, or both. The Stalker bill says it must be jail.

A citizen found drinking some needed beer or real beer or making his own or carrying a flask is headed for jail. Laws covering deadly or vicious offenses permit discretion in punishment. Even punishment for murder may be determined in the courtroom. It may be punishment by death or by imprisonment for a term of years. It may be light or heavy punishment, according as the case appears in court with all the circumstances considered. But the people who think that the use of an alcoholic beverage is a mortal sin do not think the court should have any discretion whatever.

Volstead is the particular and one law. Its promoters see that it does not work where people do not want it to work, and that inspires them to greater severity. As it has been proved in other instances, this severity defeats itself. If the law were passed some unfortunate might be subjected to it, but the reaction would be away from it. Juries would not convict when conviction meant jail, unless they were convinced in the individual case that a jail sentence was proper, just as they may be now with discretion granted. Even judges would refuse to send a man to jail where the offense did not warrant it except in the opinion of people who think that one drink should send a man to jail for a year.

IS THIS WISCONSIN, U. S. A.?

Gov. Blaine of Wisconsin was sent an invitation to the inauguration. He replied with his regrets. That was his way of saying that he would not have anything to do with it. He was the only governor who made this reply. Others dropped politics, as Americans do with regard to such events. The President is, among other things, a symbol of American unity and nationality. He is respected as such and even if it should be American misfortune to get an unworthy character as President there would be a form of respect paid to the office.

The inauguration is an impressive rite intended to present the idea of national continuity and sustained government of a free people. Right minded people, whether they were for or against Mr. Coolidge in the election, will wish him well March 4. They have good reason for doing that. It is not only a proper sentiment, but as Mr. Coolidge does well the country may do well.

Blaine and other associates and supporters of La Follette in Wisconsin reflect the rampant moods of their leader. La Follette is sour and his followers are like him. Any occasion when they can show contempt for people who do not agree with them regardless of considerations of nationality or patriotism is a good occasion for doing it. Battling Bob is Billious Bob with the habits of a common scold, the victim of his disappointments.

Wisconsin is a great state and La Follette may have had something to do with making it great, but his attitude towards his own country leaves much to be desired. He snarls at it and at its government as if both were despicable. His followers do likewise.

Blaine is the governor who refused to order the Wisconsin National Guard to take part in the defense test. Most of Wisconsin is thoroughly loyal, but its government behaves as the government of a Mexican state does occasionally. We do not regard the Mexican habit as good or its consequences beneficial, but the Wisconsin government frequently seems to be imitating it.

WE DON'T LIKE OUR POSTOFFICE.

As public buildings go the Chicago postoffice is the last failure and the worst failure on record. The time to tear it down was before it was finished. When it was finished it was outgrown. When it was occupied it was time to move out.

The blanket building appropriation for $150,000, 000 passed the house the other day. It may be a good deal pork, but one lean streak no one in justice can deny. That is the Chicago postoffice. Provision for the new building on Canal street should be made by congress.

Without prompt assurance of a new building the Canal street site between the Northwestern and the Union stations cannot be reserved. Mayor Dever appointed committees last August to devise ways of expediting the project. Chicago is ready and has been ready for a new building since its first glimpses of the old. Only Washington delays. Sale of the old building or lease of its site is probably the best plan of disposal. The new building on Canal will be near transportation. It should have an airplane landing field on the roof, built perhaps, as Elton Arnold has suggested, by bridging over intervening streets.

The present building and ground, says Congressman Britten, can sell for $22,000,000. This will build a larger building on a better site on the west side. It will leave enough over for a south side railroad terminal postoffice. There are other ways of financing the new building. Direct appropriation is one of them. In any case the new post office project should be expedited.

COMPULSORY CHILD BEARING.

Representative Robert E. Hines, a young bachelor in the Nebraska legislature, has introduced for Dr. A. S. Pinto of Omaha the bill to annul marriages which after three years are childless. He wants to compel well to do people to do their duty by the state. Many people who have trouble in supporting families do not seem to object to having big ones, but the doctor thinks the prosperous Nordic is allowing himself to die out and something should be done about it. A law about it is the way. It is the American fashion.

Dr. Pinto for some unexplained reason misses the first step. The scheme should begin with a law compelling all young people to marry, say at least by twenty-one—penalty the penitentiary until married. Then we start right.

Some people may say that it would be inhuman to separate two people whose affection for each other was the strongest thing in their lives, but in a land of laws this must be dismissed as unworthy sentimentality. There are other people who will regard a three year marriage as fair enough. They would accept annulment as the most convenient way of bringing the relation to a close. But undoubtedly the law would be strengthened. Annulment of marriage would be too lenient. Husband and wife would be led to the lethal chamber.

About the only thing we lack here in America is a law making the immortality of the soul compulsory.

Editorial of the DayA GREAT FOREIGN SECRETARY.

[Manchester (Eng.) Guardian.]
By the resignation of Mr. Charles E. Hughes, United States secretary of state, international politics loses a singularly sane, humane, and consistent figure. For his work at the Washington naval disarmament conference, of which he was the chairman, if for nothing else, he will be widely remembered. Right at the outset of that conference he brought forward a great and practical plan for naval disarmament and made a memorable contribution to peace and retrenchment. In some respects strongly conservative, he never followed the die-hard isolationists of the Republican party in their bitter attacks on the league of nations or in their contention that the world court must be constructed afresh. He believed that with all its faults the covenant of the league has brought forth a great principle and that the present incomplete structure can be strengthened and perfected to the service of the world. In appointing as his successor Mr. Kellogg, the American ambassador in London, President Coolidge has chosen a secretary who, because of his intimate and sympathetic knowledge of European problems, may be counted on to help to build the indispensable diplomatic bridge over the Atlantic.

RAINY WINDS CAUSE CONSUMPTION.

STRONG, rain bearing winds are hard on human beings and cows. They cause tuberculosis and they also cause consumption in humans. Dr. Gordon of England has been carefully studying the relation of wind and rain to consumption for the last twenty-five years. He concludes that strong, rain bearing winds surpass every other factor except occupation in causing consumption. The chance of contracting consumption is twice as great among people habitually exposed to such winds as it is among people sheltered against them.

These winds were of importance in determining the course of consumption. He concluded that the chance of recovery was twice as great among consumptive sheltered from such winds as it was among those exposed to them. He, therefore, advised that in locating and arranging consumption sanatoria these institutions be protected against strong, rain bearing winds.

A hill or wall 100 feet high will protect a sanatorium located to the leeward of it, provided the distance between the hill and the house is less than one-half mile. Such a hill will give some degree of protection for a second half mile. In planning sanatoria shacks and similar houses the porches and living rooms should face away from such winds. These winds were made in a part of England in which the strong, rain bearing winds commonly come from the west. There the sanatorium should be placed on the east side of hills and the houses and shacks should be made to front east.

Over most of western Europe the strong, cold rain winds come from the west, northwest, or southwest. In England the consumption rate is greatest in those homes where the west, west winds get a fine sweep at the house. A prevailing wind from a given direction does not seem to do harm unless the winds carry moisture.

In certain parts of the world, wind in certain directions blow rather steadily for several months. These are dry winds. Dr. Gordon has found no evidence that such winds cause consumption or cause consumptives to die.

CORRECTION.

In a recent issue of THE TRIBUNE an incorrect answer was given to the following question. The corrected answer is herewith published.

Valparaiso, Ind., Jan. 18.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A man pays freight on a car of cattle and gets receipted bill and sells on that basis, thereby closing transaction. Then the railroad company sends out a correction asking for more freight. Would the Indiana law compel one to pay that claim?

AN UNCOMFORTABLE FLAT.
Chicago, Jan. 23.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I should like to know if I have enough grounds to break the lease on my flat. I have a 2 month old baby and the flat is cold. The baby is sick from being in a cold. I have reported it to the health department and have asked for more heat, but the flat remains the same. A. P.

We advise you not to move until you have given the landlord warning and a reasonable opportunity to correct the condition. Section 2119 of the city code requires a minimum temperature of 60 degrees in apartments at 6:30 a. m. to 8:30 degrees at 7:30 a. m. and 68 degrees at 8:30 and thereafter until 10:30 in the evening. From that time to June 1, 1925, the minimum is 62 degrees. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FAITH, AND I'M IN LOVE AGAIN.

Faith, and I'm in love again, though none there is to guess it—
Splendors on the city streets and roses in the air—
All my heart's afire again, but why should I confess it?
What's the gain of getting back the chains I used to wear?

Ache of empty arms again, but I'll not let her know it—
Books beneath the balcony and wine beneath the stair—
All the world's at odds again, but how am I to show it?
Where's the good of being caught in coils of tumbled hair?

Faith, and I'm in love again, and I'll be gay about it—
Friends and many plays to see and gaudy clothes to wear—
All my days are glad again, and I can live without it,
But oh, the face that follows me and haunts me everywhere!

WE USED to hate the radio like Len Small does Ed Brundage, but since we took the one of the Advertising Engineers' Association gave us for the buddies out to the Edward Hines Jr. hospital last Saturday, we've been lost. The first thing we used to do when we got up was to whirl the dials and hear a voice saying, "Now, you have your pencils ready, separate three eggs and beat the whites to a stiff froth." Of course we don't cook, so we are especially enthusiastic about recipes. We eat at the Greek's on the corner, but it was nice to hear a human voice, and a sweet, kind, woman's voice, too. It was just as though she were personally telling us "good-morning."

THE COMMUTER'S TICKET.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.—In the Voice of the People column of the Sunday Tribune Jan. 18 we read a letter from C. F. Weeks of Lombard, Ill., suggesting that a fifty-four ride monthly ticket be substituted for the present sixty ride ticket.

A few of the present day commuters may recall that for many years prior to 1891 the monthly individual commuter tickets between Chicago and Lombard and other points on the Chicago and Northwestern railway contained fifty-four rides.

During that period many of our patrons claimed that fifty-four rides were not enough; that occasionally they wished to come into the city on Sunday or perhaps make a trip back some evening to enjoy the theater, and in response to the more or less general expressed demand at that time the railroad company in 1891 increased the number of rides to sixty, but without increasing the rates a cent; in other words, the railroad made a present of six extra rides a month to each of their monthly ticket patrons.

It would hardly be fair now to ask the railroad company to make some allowance for the six rides which they added free of extra charge many years ago.

The monthly commutation rate between Chicago and Lombard in 1890 was $7. Today it is $7.70, only 70 cents higher, although the price of everything else has gone up many times that much.

C. A. CATRAN,
Passenger Traffic Manager, Chicago and Northwestern Railway.

DOES NIETZSCHE EDIT THE TRIBUNE?

Oconomowoc, Wis., Jan. 23.—Analysis of your editorial entitled "Shidehara Says Something" reveals a good deal concerning the philosophy which underlies the editorial policy of THE TRIBUNE. We must believe, then, that the editorial policy of THE TRIBUNE is determined by a disciple of Nietzsche, and an admirer of the Superman. We must believe that he is an anarchist, since the Superman was damnable in Germany. Let him take who has the power, and let him keep who can. We must believe that he is un-American, for it was the ideal American who said, "Let us go to the limit of our power, but let us not go beyond it." We must believe that he is un-Christian, for he denies the universal brotherhood of man, and by implication the universal fatherhood of God.

A disciple of Nietzsche! An anarchist! Un-American! Un-Christian! The philosophy of Nietzsche and the doctrine of the Superman were damnable in Germany many a decade ago. Are they admirable in America today? THE TRIBUNE seems to think so.

ASK THE EX-SERVICE MEN ABOUT THE DEBT.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—Speaking from my personal experience after having been in contact with the French people for more than a year, I certainly am not in favor of having the debt canceled. The manner in which the French people robbed the service men was scandalous. The doughboys left enough money over there in overcharges not only to pay the debt due us but the interest also.

Tell Alice Preston to ask any ex-soldier who has seen service in France if he is in favor of having the debt canceled and he will tell you most emphatically no. They are mostly of the opinion that the debt should not only be paid in full, but the interest also, with no deductions of any kind.

EX-SERVICE MAN.CURTAIN CRIME NEWS.

Lake Forest, Ill., Jan. 23.—All your sensible readers will approve the proposition that you curtail the exploitation of "crime news." You are right in letting us know that crime exists, but why cover your pages with superfluous details? It is demoralizing. We do not ask you to turn your paper into a religious publication, but you have a fine opportunity to be leader in a reform that is bound to come some day.

J. J. DRUMMOND.

CHICAGO HAS A JOB FOR GEN.

Chicago, Jan. 23.—The "voice" of one William F. Collinsgrove about borrowing Gen. Butler from Philadelphia seems to be the best remedial measure advocated to clean up Chicago. According to newspaper accounts, he has routed the criminals from Philly.

It will require a real "Hell, Maria" leader to bring about a step in the constant crime wave that exists in Chicago at present.

ALL FUR COATS REDUCED

Every Type of Fur Coat in The February Clearance

HUDSON Seal, caracul, American broadtail, leopard, leopard cat, muskrat, raccoon, every desired Fur, in fact, is represented in this annual February Clearance of all Fur Coats. Evening Furs, too, are drastically reduced. And as they are all made in the modish lines, the economy of buying now is great.

Superb Mink Coats Are Also Reduced

The most beautiful of Eastern and Western pelts have been used in making the Mink collection now reduced. Each model is an individual one, each reveals the exacting artistry and skill required in the combining of the skins, each is a remarkable value.

Exquisitely marked and worked in to a handsome border effect, the Coat illustrated is typical. This model is reduced to $2,500. Other fine Mink Coats reduced to $985 and up.

Elmer Finds Tunes Aplenty in Air Waves

Tires of Chicago, So Goes on Ether Sojourn.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

If you are a cross word puzzle enthusiast you may be able to follow this story.

There was a good beginning at WLS from 7:30 to 8, where Edouard Hesselberg, pianist and composer, presented a group of classical compositions, many of them his own, assisted by James Westbrook, tenor. This was a genuine concert half hour program, of interest and variety.

My sojourn to WEBB between 7 and 8 always found either the Orlo orchestra playing semi-classical compositions or Dean (that's his Christian name) Remick, the station's rapidly developing pianist, playing good, sound pieces, ranging from the classics to the moderns. Incidentally, it has been pleasing to note recently the exchange of air courtesies between WEBB and WGN when signing off, each saying "Please stand by for" the other station.

Shortly after 8, KTVI became enthused over another pianist, Lillian Abrapowski, on the Chicago Music college program, but a telephone call stating inability to pick up a music memory contest being broadcast from WJZ, New York, through WIC, Washington, WGY, Schenectady, and KD KA, Pittsburgh, so—East.

I had no success with WRC, and don't know why. WJZ (45) unsatisfactory; too close to WMAQ (44). While trying to pick up WJZ, Clara Laughlin at WMAQ was contrasting the beautiful gardens and surrounding scenery at Monte Carlo with unfortunate old, broke, and broken down women gamblers who spent (or spend) their time trying to figure out lucky combinations. WGY (38) was too close to WGN (37), the latter coming in at this point extremely strong, since its increase in power. While in that marking neighborhood I spent some considerable time with WGN, studying the voice and methods of Hermanus T. Jaer, baritone, who is an assistant to the well known vocal instructor, William Shakespeare. The man was enjoyable, smart, and profitable, I hope. Also listening to Clarence Johnson, tenor. Together they made a fine concert program No. 2 for the evening.

High power again, and down to the low wave lengths for that delayed musical contest. Upon approaching KDKA, Pittsburgh, I met with all kinds of whistles, evidently the center of interest for listeners in this vicinity. Elly Ney, pianist, was heard in one number that could be named under other conditions; soprano sang a song (No. 11 of the group), the names of the artist nor the piece being furnished, and the Brunswick concert orchestra was heard.

Back to Chicago at 9:30 to hear Anthony Wons and his assistants at WLS giving a reading of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar," and also to close this story.

Hotel Workers Quizzed About Kaspar Robbery

On the theory that the robbery of gems worth $20,000 from Mrs. Otto Kaspar in the East End Park hotel Monday night was an "inside job," police yesterday started for questioning three hotel workers.

They are John Girvan, elevator boy in the hotel; Robert Westcott, a former bellboy there, and Thomas Monahan, Cooper-Carlson hotel bellboy. They stoutly denied knowledge of the robbery, but will be questioned further.

TRADE TREATY WITH GERMANY GOES TO SENATE

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—After approving reservations, the senate committee on foreign relations today reported favorably the long pending commercial treaty with Germany.

One of the reservations permits abrogation of the provision of the treaty which would prevent the imposition of discriminating duties on imports carried in American vessels. Opposition to this feature of the treaty has held up action since last session.

The other resolution, approved by the committee, was as follows: "Nothing herein contained shall be construed to affect existing status of either country in relation to the immigration of aliens or the right of either to enact such statutes."

-and No Place to Go!

We find ourselves, almost without realizing it, a nation on wheels.

We drive or ride in more than 17,000,000 motor vehicles.

We pack the paved highways coming in and out of town. We over-run even so-called remote regions. And we are pounding to pieces all but permanent roads.

This year probably 4,000,000 new cars will be on the road. Compared to this increase, the mileage of new permanent roads will be insignificant.

We don't want to be a nation on wheels, with no place to go.

The answer is, build more, and where necessary, wider concrete roads—and start building them now.

Not in a long time have general conditions been so favorable for carrying on such public works as permanent highway building.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support.

Tell them you are ready to invest in more Concrete Highways, now.

Transportation

Chicago, the terminus of many great railway systems.

Chicago, where thousands of trains enter and leave daily, has within itself a great transportation system, the Yellow Cab Company, which sends out 2,790 perfectly equipped trains and averages 46,173 trips every 24 hours, or 16,853,135 trips annually.

The many thousands of Chicago's streets are Yellow Cab's tracks. Each cab is a train—each driver a skilled engineer who knows the right-of-way and realizes his responsibilities for the safety and comfort of his passengers.

Scattered at convenient intervals throughout Chicago are 131 Yellow Cab depots, or stations. Our time schedule is your time schedule. It is your Cab Company, your railway, and subject to your convenience, your whims, your pleasure.

The Yellow Cab Company is a great transportation system. It covers millions of miles yearly. Last year it traveled 103,180,151 miles and carried 26,136,890 passengers.

The Yellow Cab Company has opened up in Chicago the inaccessible places, just as the great railways penetrated the plains and the forests and made available the fertile lands of our agricultural states.

Yellow Cab Company is part of Chicago's wealth and a part producer of that wealth. It realizes its responsibility to the people of Chicago, just as our great railways realize their responsibility to the nation.

Yellow Cab Company has made all Chicago and its environs available to every Chicagoan.

GUNNAR KASSON TELLS STORY OF RACE TO NOME

Gives Chief Credit to His Lead Dog, Balto.

latched the dogs. I wanted to get on to the radiohouse at Safety (a distance of thirty-four miles) before the trail got impassable. The first piece of trail was the best. I stuck to the coast, figuring it would make good going if not too stormy. The wind was blowing hard—I don't know just how hard. But I had seal mukluks on my feet. They go up to the hip. And I had seal skin pants over them. On my head I had a reindeer parka and hood and a drill parka over that. But the wind was so strong it went right through the skins.

[As Gunnar Kasson was starting from Bluff Ed Rohne, setting on the trail at Safety, twenty-one miles from Nome, he said as he relayed, sent word to Nome the wind was blowing eighty miles an hour, that the snow was coming down so heavily it was impossible for man or dog to face it.]

Crossing Topkok river I ran into trouble. I ran Balto into an overflow. I couldn't see it ahead it was snowing so. (An overflow is where the water has run up over the ice.) I had to turn him into a soft snowdrift to dry off his feet. That keeps them from freezing and getting torn on the glare ice.

I stopped only a few minutes, then started up Topkok hill. (Topkok hill is about 600 feet above the sea level and stands exposed to the full sweep of the wind from the south.) The wind was coming in from the northwest. Topkok hill is hell when it's storming. It was storming when I got up there. My right cheek was frozen. Coming down from Topkok hill you come to the flat for a straight of six miles. Along ways is Spruce creek. It's always the worst spot for wind in any kind of weather.

Balto kept on Trail. It was blowing so hard I could scarcely see my hand in front of my face. I couldn't even see the wheel dog. That's where Balto came in. I didn't know where I was. I couldn't even guess. He scented the trail through the snow and kept going straight on the glare ice of the frozen lagoons. I didn't even know when I passed right by Solomon, so I didn't get the message from Nome.

[Solomon is the first village on the trail along the coast from Bluff to Nome. It lies about thirty-three miles from Nome. Gunnar Kasson had gone twenty-three miles, with more than that ahead of him. At Solomon word from Nome was waiting for Kasson telling him to wait until the storm was over and not to press on under such conditions.]

It's twelve and a half miles from Solomon to Safety. The wind across

House Pushes Redistricting Bill; Chicago May Get Its Due

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—Chicago's fight to obtain the legislative representation to which it is entitled will go to an early showdown in the legislature.

Chairman Swanson (Rep., Cook) of the house judiciary committee today set the Schnackenberg reapportionment resolution down for committee hearing next Tuesday. Chicago members believe the committee will act favorably.

This was the most important development of a day of inactivity when both houses adjourned this morning out of respect for Senator Richard R. Meents (Rep., Iroquois), whose wife was buried at Ashkum today.

What Chicago Would Get. An immediate reapportionment of legislative districts would give Cook county five more districts with five more senators and fifteen additional representatives. It would also cause a revision of many downstate districts.

Representative Schnackenberg (Rep., Cook), author of the resolution, says he has assurance that there are more downstate members in the present house favorable to reapportionment than ever before. Fifteen downstate supported the measure in 1923. John B. Ferguson of Chicago, the treasury watchdog who upset a whole hopper of legislative doing a decade ago, is stirring around with mysterious intimations of what might happen in the courts if the legislature fails in its constitutional duty any longer.

Hits Gun Toters. Herrin's blood feud and Chicago's murder rate were reflected in two legislative moves today. Representative Lyons (Rep., Cook) drew amendments to his bill prohibiting justice of the peace from issuing gun toting permits and transferring this authority to sheriffs and police chiefs. One makes the bill effective immediately on its passage. The other cancels all outstanding gun permits.

A bill making all first degree murder punishable by death was offered by Representative Smith (Rep., Cook). The penalty for second degree murder is ranged from fourteen years to life. Juries are required to fix the degree of murder in all convictions, and the same requirement is made of judges on pleas of guilty. Casual perusal of the bill indicates that it would seriously interfere with the present parole system, several members said.

LOBBYIST SEEKS WET VOTES FROM WET DISTRICTS

BY PARKE BROWN.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—Springfield today welcomed something different in the way of lobbyists—E. E. Thiele, director for the Illinois division of the National Association Opposed to Prohibition.

For the time being, at least, Thiele is a professional lobbyist, but he is unique so far as this capital is concerned in that he doesn't receive a cent for his services. He is giving his time to the work of the association because he is a zealot in what he believes is the cause of liberty.

"I consider," he says, "that a police measure has been written into our constitution. I belong to a faith that prohibits the eating of meat on Friday, but if it were proposed to write such a prohibition into our constitution, I should resent it."

Thiele is 36 years old. Thirty-three years ago he was a member of the state senate from Chicago. At one time he was president of the Chicago College of Pharmacy, now the Pharmacy School of the University of Illinois, and he owned three drug stores in Chicago before the days of prohibition. And he also is different in the way he approaches his subject.

"I am down here to ask these members what they want to do," he says. "Not to tell them what I want them to do."

"Public sentiment throughout the state is opposed to prohibition, and it is our purpose to remind the members of the senate and house whose districts voted wet that they should observe the wishes of their constituents."

"The day is drawing near when a legislator from an overwhelming wet district will come to vote dry. We are assured now that Senator Albert Roberts of the Third district will vote wet. Senator Thurlow G. Eastington will have to do likewise or face defeat the next time. And such men as Representative Charles Martin will have to see the light or answer to their constituents."

Thiele has been engaged recently in organizing branches of the association in downstate cities.

"We already have a membership of 850 in Streator," he said. "We have an organization started in Cairo and we have laid foundations in Joliet, Aurora, Elgin, Waukegan, Springfield, Kankakee, Carlinville, La Salle, and Peru."

Representative Charles H. Weber of Chicago said today that the wets have lined up seventy-eight votes—one more than a constitutional majority—for his bill providing for a referendum on the repeal of the search and seizure act.

Sydney, Australia, Reaches Population of 1,000,000

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 3.—The population of Sydney exceeded 1,000,000 at the end of 1924, according to government figures just made public. The city is now third in size in the southern hemisphere, being next to Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro. It is certain to outstrip Glasgow this year and it will then be fourth in the British empire, next to London, Bombay, and Calcutta.

Oriental Win in Hawaiian Oratory on Dry Regime

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] HONOLULU, Feb. 3.—Three prizes out of four in the annual territorial prohibition oratorical contest were won by oriental students. Francis Sato, a Japanese, won first prize and Kimfan Chiang, a Chinese, won the second prize.

Bonanza creek was the worst I ever felt. The sled spilled every other minute in the soft snow and I had to untangle the dogs' harness, lift the stuff back on the sled, and get going again. It was dark, too, black.

Let's Relief Man Sleep. The going was better after I got across Bonanza. The trail turned so the wind was with me. That boosted me along so I made the twelve and a half miles to Safety in eighty minutes.

The wind had gone down when I got to Safety. I mushed by the roadhouse, but as everything was dark and Balto and the others were going good now I decided to continue, instead of waiting for Ed Rohne. Its twenty-one miles from Safety to Nome. The trail runs along the beach of the Bering sea. The wind had drifted the snow between the hummocks and the upper beach. It made the trail heavy. Two of my dogs who were frozen on another trip began to stiffen up. I made a rabbit skin covering for them, but the cold went right through it.

I was good and glad to see Nome. I was good and hungry.

How "Off-Color" Teeth

Now are quickly restored to dazzling whiteness

A NEW method urged widely by leading authorities. Make this remarkable dental test. See what gleaming clearness is beneath the dingy film that clouds your teeth

DENTAL science now proves that dull, off-color teeth are a folly; that gleaming whiteness can be obtained with but little effort. New methods of tooth and gum beauty and protection have been found.

Results are quick and lasting. In a short time you can work a transformation on your teeth, can literally change your whole appearance.

Now a 10-day test is offered you—the most remarkable of all dental tests. Simply use the coupon.

It's only a dingy film

The reason your teeth look off color is that they are coated with a film and the method you now use fails to successfully remove that film. That is why, regardless of the care you take, your teeth remain dull and unattractive.

You can't see that film with your eyes. But run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it—a viscous, slippery coating that absorbs discolorations, and clouds your teeth.

Remove it and you'll be amazed at what you find. You probably have beautiful teeth without realizing it.

Film, too, is charged with most tooth troubles. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and gum troubles.

You must constantly combat it. You can't have pretty teeth, unless you do. It is a constant danger in your mouth.

New methods remove it. And Firm the Gums

Now new methods have been found. And embodied in a new type dentifrice called Pepsodent, different in formula, action and effect from any other known method.

Its action is to erode film and harmlessly to remove it, then to firm the gums—no harsh grit dangerous to enamel.

Most of the sparkling, white teeth you see are due to it. Largely on dental advice, it has changed the teeth cleaning habits of the world.

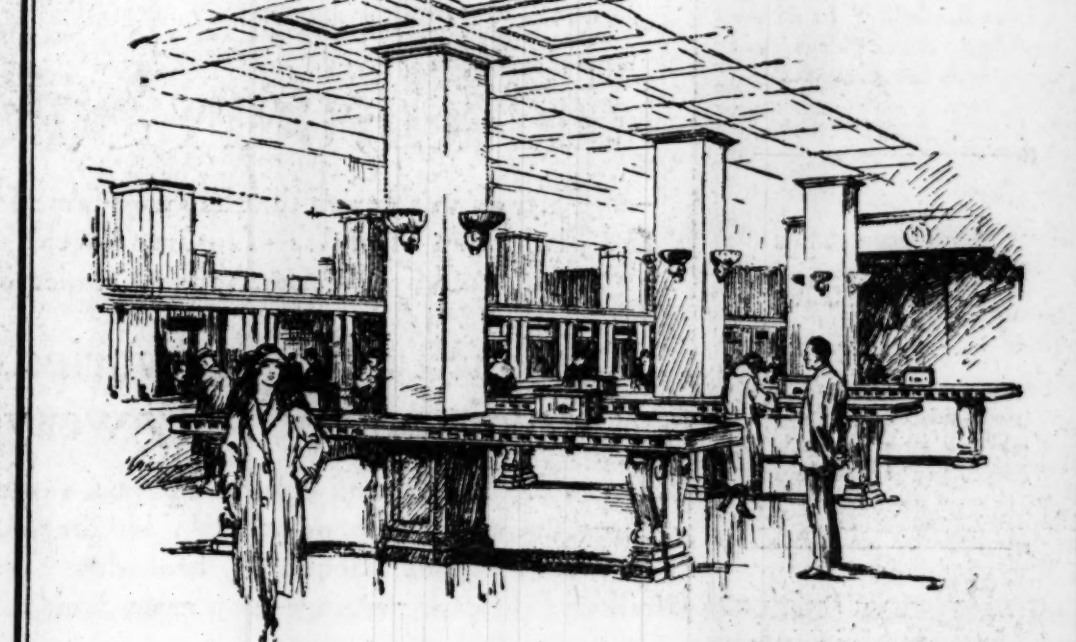

Results are quick

Make the test. Then note results. Mark the gleaming whiteness it brings; the beautiful polish and luster of your teeth. Clip the coupon before you forget.

Great News for Everybody!

Milk of magnesia and pure mineral oil have now been successfully combined. This triumph of modern science is great news for all who suffer from acid (sour) stomach and indigestion—the evil effects of acidosis and constipation.

The name of this perfect emulsion is Haley's Magnesia-Oil—registered under United States Government patent.

You will welcome it if you are ever afflicted with heartburn and belching, have that dark brown taste in the morning, or see black specks dancing before your eyes.

Stop at your druggist's today and get a bottle of Haley's M-O. Start taking it tonight. It will fix you up in no time—for Haley's goes straight to the seat of the trouble.

Take all you need of it. Give it to the children—they like it. There is nothing harmful in Haley's M-O. Only an easy-acting, pleasant emulsion—pure mineral oil to lubricate the intestines, pure milk of magnesia to counteract and neutralize the acids.

All druggists. Large family size, $1.00. The Haley M-O Company, Indianapolis, Ind.

Housewives Find Relief for Over-Tired Muscles

Housewives have found a way to relieve the heavy strain that the round of household tasks puts upon backs, shoulders, limbs and ankles.

The remedy is simple and so well-known and popular that you will find it in one home out of every three.

The immediate positive relief that Sloan's Liniment gives is really amazing. Stiff muscles relax, the pain passes away. Sloan's sends new blood straight to the affected parts. This increased blood supply, coming freshly pumped from the heart and lungs, repairs the muscle fibres that have been injured by over exercise and washes away the fatigue poisons.

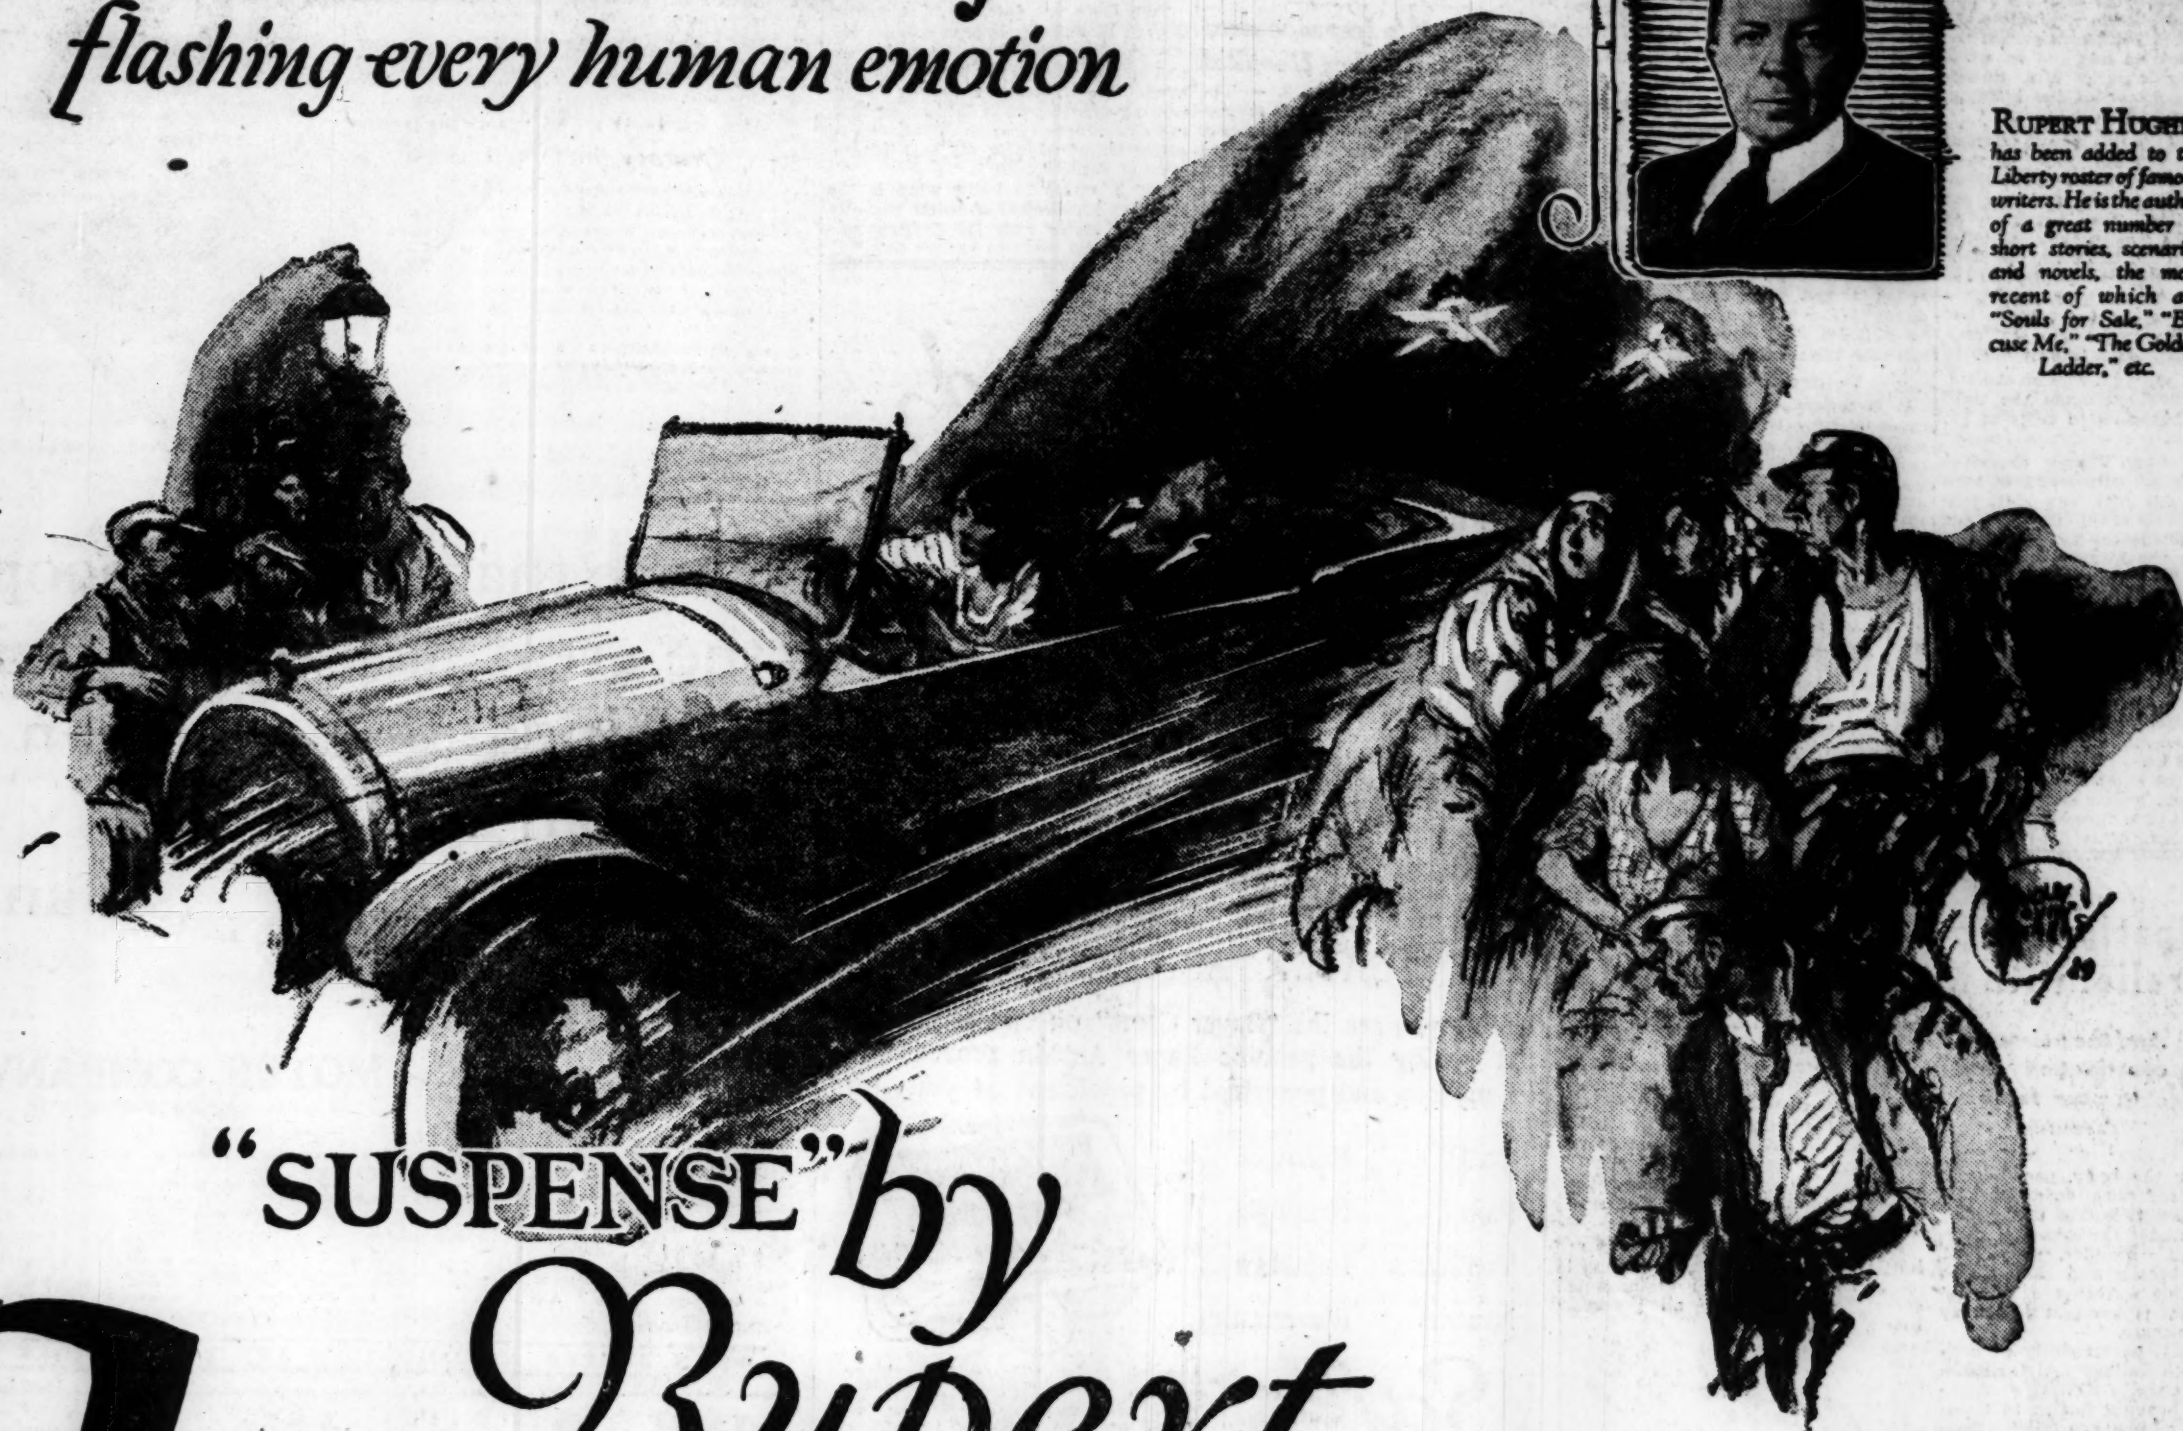

Apply Sloan's gently—do not rub it in. There is a gentle warmth and a pleasant tingling of the skin—then almost magically—relief from pain. There is no burning, no blistering—only quick, lasting relief.

To enable you to prove for yourself the effectiveness of Sloan, the makers are offering a trial bottle free. Write for it to Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Dept. A-14, 113 West 18th Street, New York City.

"SUSPENSE" by
Rupert Hughes master novelist

"... I come from meetink of strikers. Hardly nobody was there, only a few of us they call Reds. Those mens grow hongry w'ile you keep mills closed. They wait. You wait. You can wait forever. They cannot wait long. So I goink punish you for w'at you do. I goink set fire to whole damn business if you dawn't come acrosst."

Jaggard, millionaire, stiffened under the threat. He would not yield!

Then a shuddering upheaval took place. The roof of hell tore loose it seemed, and was flung high into the heavens. The night bled scarlet with fire and steel... Destruction! Violence! Death and terror stalked through the fertile valley!... Only love, hallowed, unmindful of self, heroically plunged into the flaming abyss to save the misguided—even from the horrible consequences of their own mad deeds.

Don't fail to read this astonishing record of rampant human weakness. It reveals once again that love alone is our only salvation, that love alone is triumphant in the lives of us all. In this gripping story, "Suspense," which appears complete in this week's Liberty, Rupert Hughes has achieved a climax that will thrill your every fibre; it leads an unusual list of many brilliant features in this week's issue. FIRE INQUEST IS TOLD OF FAULTY ELECTRIC WIRING

Could Easily Have Caused Fatal Blaze.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Flagrant violations of the ordinances safeguarding electrical wiring were found in the flat building at 5830 Blackstone avenue after the fire of last Saturday, which cost seven lives, according to the testimony of Victor Tousey, of the city electrical inspector's bureau at the coroner's inquest yesterday. The ordinance regarding the storage of waste paper was also violated, according to a tenant, Mrs. Iva Belle Cummings.

Mr. Tousey said the wire conditions in the building could easily have caused a fire, particularly as a penny was found in a blown fuse and a wire had been run out of one of the flats to the hall connection. This wire rubbed against a door which could have worn through the wire to a point where a flame started.

This, or a late petting party in an alcove on the first floor hallway, where cigarettes were tossed, seems to be the explanation of the fire. The jurors began the discussion of civil or criminal liability or negligence. They will hear more witnesses today before forming a verdict.

Seek Two Girls.

Two girls, occupants of one of the apartments in the burned building, who were seen after the fire in the Del Prado hotel, the only survivors who were fully clothed, are being sought. They are Laura Karsgaard and Libby Anderson. A letter which came to Miss Karsgaard yesterday was given to the police to aid in the search. It came from 845 East River street, Kankakee, supposed to be the girls' home.

George G. Erickson, a tenant on the first floor, testified he saw the girls after the fire. At first it was feared they had been lost, but a thorough search of the ruins has shown there are no more bodies. Mr. Erickson quoted J. B. Frazier, manager of the building, as saying that both girls smoked. The fact they were dressed indicates they came in late and had not gone to bed when the fire started.

The last city inspection on this building was made in 1918, according to the records held by Deputy Coroner Robert Schuett. This shows that the ordinances had been complied with.

Tenants Do Own Wiring.

Mr. Tousey brought a number of exhibits of old wiring taken from the building. The building was only permitted five lights in halls and basement. The tenants, however, took matters into their own hands and strung wires out of windows and doors or wherever they could find a lead into the current. Mr. Frazier said he had often complained of this and had torn such wires out. Mr. Tousey said similar wiring in another building recently caused the death of a woman.

The electric light bills for the building showed a big jump in power used during the last two months. This corresponded in a significant manner, according to Mr. Tousey, with the November decision of the state Supreme court holding the electrical inspection invalid. There have been many violations reported since that time, he said. Otto Sorgenfrei, deputy state fire marshal, said the state law would cover this situation under fire hazards.

Tenants and Owner Quarrel.

Although Frazier denied there had been any electric lights strung into the basement flat of the Negro porter, the porter testified he had put in wires with the knowledge of Mrs. Buelah Taylor Fritz, owner of the building, who will testify this morning.

There have been many quarrels among the tenants and between tenants and Mr. Frazier. Mrs. Cummings told the jury. She said she had a quarrel with Frazier on the day of the fire on the amount of paper stored under and along the stairway leading from the basement to the first floor. It was an "eyes averted" said, and she and other tenants had threatened to call the city and complain but feared to get into trouble.

One tenant strung a wire on the outside of the building from the third floor to the basement in order to get electric power.

Deputy Coroner Frazier requested last night that all witnesses that have been summoned and any one who knows anything about the fire and wishes to tell it to the jury, appear at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

GORGEOUS CAFE FOR RANDOLPH STREET RIALTO

BY AL CHASE.

What may be Chicago's most gorgeous cafe is promised for the Randolph street rialto, as a result of negotiations concluded yesterday between Elmer Beach, president of the United Masonic Temple corporation, and a syndicate of restaurateurs. This group has agreed to take 12,600 square feet of space in the basement of the new United Masonic temple now being erected on the site of the old Colonial theater, at $1,500 annually, and install a sumptuous restaurant. Although no definite plans have been announced, it is possible that the cafe will be decorated in the gorgeous colors of the far east, along East Indian lines, as the theater in the same building is to be designed. The name Singapore cafe has been tentatively suggested.

To Open in January, 1925.

It is understood that the syndicate hopes to make the Singapore one of the most gorgeous and colorful restaurants in the world. It probably will have a large dancing place for fox trotters and entertainers. The opening date is set for about Jan. 15, 1925.

Mr. Beach also has broken records in renting an assembly hall on the top floor of the new temple to a dancing club for one night a week, at $10,400 a year. The terms have been agreed upon, though the lease has not yet been signed.

Mr. Beach, who is a past grand master of Illinois Masonry, will leave for California at the end of the week.

5 DIE AS GREEKS RIOT AGAINST WAR WITH TURK

Crisis May Bring Fall of Athens Cabinet.

ATHENS, Feb. 3.—[By United Press.]—The Greek cabinet is expected to fall forthwith as a result of the government's stand on the matter of Turkey's expulsion of the patriarch of the Greek Catholic church from Constantinople.

The assembly gave Premier Michalakopoulos a vote of confidence, 155 to 75, but a general upheaval is almost certain, because word here is that Turkey will reject a proposal for arbitration by The Hague tribunal. Because of intense popular excitement and religious fervor, Greece cannot recede from the stand she has taken; and the present government, it is believed, will not dare to go much further.

Therefore Premier Michalakopoulos is expected to be overthrown and coalition, headed by Gen. Condylis, to take his place. In that event, Gen. Pangalos, the fiery deputy who cried for armed force against the Turks last Saturday, would be made minister for war.

An anti-war demonstration was staged at Tricala today when communists broke windows in the public buildings and attacked the police station.

The police fired blank cartridges at the mob, only to be shot at with ball cartridges. General fighting followed. Five persons were killed, four wounded, and many arrested. Order finally was restored. This fatal demonstration was one of many against war.

400 MERCHANTS HERE TO STUDY STYLES, BUYING

More than 400 retail store owners and their representatives held the second day of their annual buying meeting in the Auditorium hotel yesterday. The affair is held under the auspices of the Retailers' Commercial union and is the thirty-eighth annual event of its kind, according to F. A. Wood, manager. Everything that can be sold in a department store is on display.

In the women's wearing apparel department the suspender dress is attracting attention. "Building Business in Shoes, Millinery, and Women's Garments," was the subject at three group meetings yesterday of the Interstate Merchants' council in the Hotel La Salle.

GIRL, DYING, RISES, TAKES IDENTITY OF DEAD PRIEST

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] MADRID, Feb. 3.—The extraordinary case of a peasant girl, suddenly possessed of the learning and character of a Cuban priest whom she never saw and who has been dead a year, has attracted the attention of the scientific and religious worlds to the village of San Jorge de Mueche, where the girl is now preaching to multitudes.

The girl, Manuela Rodriguez Fraga, 26, a few months ago contracted tuberculosis and grew steadily worse until Jan. 12, when hope was abandoned by her family, who are farmers, and she died.

Then, suddenly, the girl rose from her death bed, asked for food, and ate a regular meal, although she had been on a milk diet for months. It was observed that she possessed exceptional physical strength and that her conversation and whole character were that of a stranger.

Vote Funds for Alsace Representative at Vatican

PARIS, Feb. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—The chamber of deputies this evening voted the credits necessary to maintain a representative for Alsace-Lorraine at the Vatican. The vote was 317 to 246. Premier Herriot had made the question one of confidence.

U. S. WILL SPURN NEW OPIUM PACT, PORTER HINTS

GENEVA, Feb. 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—So unsatisfactory from the American standpoint were today's developments at the international opium conference that, if they stand as the last word of the delegates, it may be impossible for the American delegation to sign the anti-narcotic convention which is now near completion, Stephen G. Porter, head of the American delegation, said he thought today's action was the most serious that had occurred, because it struck a blow at the most vital element of the American proposals, which is that opium production should be limited to medicinal and scientific needs.

The subcommittee which has been struggling with this question for two months dolefully concluded this afternoon that they had been unable to agree because of reservations made by five opium growing countries.

The congressional resolution authorizing Mr. Porter's presence in Geneva distinctly stipulates that the Americans shall sign no agreement not fulfilling conditions necessary for the suppression of habit forming narcotic drug traffic as set forth in the preamble of the resolution. This preamble declares the use of opium products for other than medical or scientific purposes is illegitimate abuse, and affirms that to prevent abuse of these products it is necessary to exercise control of raw opium products.

BIG BILL'S FISH CLUB BUILT WITH TAXPAYERS' COIN

Information showing that the taxpayer paid for much of the material and labor put into the construction of William Hale Thompson's Fish Fan's club in Lincoln park, as well as for part of its maintenance, was disclosed yesterday.

Records of the Lincoln park board show that material of every kind was requisitioned, approved and purchased through the board. In addition, the evidence discloses that park employees were engaged for from five to six weeks in installing the material. Meanwhile Lincoln park tug boat No. 1 continues to discharge steam into the clubhouse at a reported cost of $100 a day.

Last fall when work started on the old hulk that serves as a club, requisitions were sent to various departments of the park board for material. They were approved and marked "rush." Such materials as catchbasins, lumber, sewer pipe, hundreds of feet of various kinds of pipe, nails and lead were asked for.

To install the material employees of the park spent some five or six weeks. Time sheets for November, 1924, show park employees were working on the clubhouse at wages ranging from $4.80 to $12 per day.

SPRAGUE ELECTED PRESIDENT OF IROQUOIS CLUB

Col. Albert A. Sprague was elected president of the Iroquois club last night without opposition to succeed James Whitney Hall. John M. O'Connor was elected vice president; Ross C. Hall, secretary, and John P. McKinley, treasurer. The board of governors, numbering twenty-nine, includes many of the most prominent Democratic office holders in the county. Former Senator James Hamilton Lewis spoke on Woodrow Wilson at the annual dinner. He recalled that yesterday was the anniversary of Wilson's death.

South Shore Turns Down Amusement Park Project

The South Shore Protective association concurred last night in the action of its beach committee in refusing the offer of the Jacob Keener estate to construct a huge amusement park from 71st to 78th street along the lake. The Keener estate is owner of land now under the lake. It was proposed to fill in the land between the present shore and the under water lots and erect a huge dance hall and other amusement equipment.

Ruddy Cheeks — Sparkling Eyes — Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, saving them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a general action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for salines—now and then just to keep them fit, 10c and 50c.

Young Son of Former Louise Brega Is Here for Business Career

BY PANDORA.

Every one who knew her years ago in Chicago will remember Louise Brega, the late Charles W. Brega's daughter, who is now in the city. Her large blue eyes, curly black hair and lovely speaking voice made her a definite and striking personality.

She numerous love affairs and her recent suitors of many nationalities were the talk of the town in her day. When she finally made her choice, it was a Britisher, Lieut. Col. Ralph H. Brega. Since her marriage she has lived entirely in England, and become quite merged in her life so that to most of her contemporaries she has become a myth, a vision of the past.

But now arrives among us her young son—her very young son, as he has not yet got out of his second decade—Charles W. Brega, who is making his way in the city.

He has come here under the aegis of that sturdy promoter of youth and industry, Samuel Insull, and is filling a place in one of the great public utility companies. He is a native of Chicago, and is reported that this young and well-educated adolescent Briton, who is now attending a university in Spain and business in Chicago, and where he will find a large number of his friends, is a very capable and charming fellow.

The one tie he has to the Chicago of his father's day is his great-grandfather, who was a prominent figure in the city's history.

His father, who has just returned from a six months' sojourn in Spain under the name of William J. Calhoun's hospitable and charming roof.

Mr. Rymer and his bride are on an extended honeymoon in Europe.

Massmeeting Here to Urge World Court

The Chicago world court committee, made up of the heads of hundreds of civic organizations and of prominent individuals, is completing arrangements for a massmeeting on Feb. 15, when Raymond Fosdick, speaking before the Sunday Evening club, will present the matter of the world court. In the meantime intensive organization effort, instituted largely by women voters, insures a constant flow of letters and telegrams from Chicago to Senators Borah, McCormick and McNamara, urging that they do their best to secure American entry into the court on the terms of the original Harding-Hughes proposals before congress adjourns.

Chicago members of the committee include Miss Jane Addams, Clifford W. Barnes, Mrs. Joseph T. Bowen, Col. Abel Davis, Joseph H. DeForest, George W. Dixon, Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank, Frank O. Lowden, and Miss Mary E. McDowell. Mrs. James W. Morrison is secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ingalls Pierce and Miss Adelaide Pierce of 1337 Astor street and the C. Dal Lihmes of New York and Chicago have joined the large group of Chicagoans at the Evergreen club in Palm Beach.

The Albert B. Dicks, who are cruising in Florida waters on their yacht, The Chieftain, have put in at Palm Beach for a stay.

Late additions to the Chicago colony at Palm Beach are the Huntingtons of 936 Lake Shore drive and Mr. and Mrs. James H. Baum, Mrs. of 66 East Division street, who are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Wilhelm of 334 Wellington avenue at the Wilhelm place.

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Black of the Lake Shore Drive hotel have returned from a visit in Kansas City, where they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Harvey.

A group of members of the Chicago Athletic association have banded together and have departed for a trip to New Orleans, Havana, the Canal Zone, Key West, and Miami. At various points along their route entertainments are being planned for them.

The party includes Mr. and Mrs. William H. Powell of 747 Kenesaw terrace, and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lauritzen of 592 Kenesaw terrace, Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Alter of 6184 Sheridan road, Joseph E. Wilson, and William P. O'Donnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson Again Heads Children's Benefit League

Mrs. William C. Robinson was re-elected president of the Children's Benefit league at the annual meeting of the organization at the Auditorium Hotel yesterday. Other officers elected were Mrs. Roderick Findlay, Mrs. William E. Tucker, Mrs. George Anderson, Mrs. P. R. DeCarlo, Mrs. Harry C. Paul and Mrs. Frank A. Healy.

Chairmen of committees for the coming year are as follows: Mrs. F. L. Haskell, Mrs. Thomas English, Mrs. C. E. Frankenthal, Mrs. W. E. Galloway, Mrs. J. P. Ryan, Mrs. Thomas Reedy, Mrs. G. C. Carothers and Mrs. C. L. Larkin.

Priests Give $1,000 for Famine Relief in Ireland

Leading priests of Chicago met yesterday in the Ashland block and contributed $1,000 toward a $10,000 fund to be sent President Coolidge of the Irish Free State to alleviate famine conditions existing there. Another meeting will be held next Tuesday.

Lack of Young People in Church Activities Deplored by Bishop

The chief indictment against the modern church is failure to develop a proper place for young people, the Rt. Rev. Herman Page, bishop of Michigan and formerly of Chicago, told the Episcopal Young People's Association in convention at Epiphany Church last night. The conference was in connection with the annual Episcopal diocesan convention.

"There is an utter lack of young people in activities of the church today," said Bishop Page. "I do not maintain that they should be given a voice in government of the church, but I do believe that they should be given a more active part in general church work."

Prohibition, eugenics, fundamentalism and modernism, and a review of his own twenty-five years of service were woven into the address of the Rt. Rev. C. P. Anderson, bishop of Chicago, at the opening session of the convention yesterday.

"Fundamentalists and modernists are bringing ruin to both factions through their disputes, and there is no place for either of them in the church," Bishop Anderson stated. "With but I do believe that they should be given a more active part in general church work."

"Both science and religion are wonderful and mysterious, and the wonders of one do not contradict the wonders of the other. All truth is at unity with itself," he said.

In the opinion of Bishop Anderson, the good effects accomplished by prohibition have been purchased at a high price—disrespect for the law and resentment against the curtailment of personal liberty. Eugenics he classed as one of the most important, but not one of the most popular, sciences, and he declared there might be enough truth in the statements that the race is deteriorating to set people thinking about the virtues of the stock.

The Rev. Gerald Moore, Chicago, was elected secretary, and A. H. Noyes of Chicago, treasurer of the diocese. Nearly 1,000 persons attended the opening session yesterday, in addition to delegates to conventions of the Girls' Friendly Society, Daughters of the King and other organizations holding meetings in connection with the convention.

U. S. Takes Danish Butter as Colonies Supply England

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) COPENHAGEN, Feb. 3.—The United States took fifty tons of Danish butter last week when colonial butter competed with Danish butter on the English market.

The ceremony will be followed by a large dinner in the crystal ballroom.

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Keneck of 2725 West Monroe street announce the marriage on Jan. 30 of their daughter, Ruth Marie, to Philip D. Hyland of 904 Glenview place. Mr. and Mrs. Hyland will spend their honeymoon in Florida and Cuba.

Bright Sayings of the Children

The Tribune will pay $1 for each child's saying printed. The story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unavailable contributions. Please write on one side of the paper. Address Bright Sayings to Janet Bee, Tribune, Chicago.

Janet had been taken to the playground with a friend. There was a pool there and Janet went in wading. When she reached her home she told her mother she had had a wonderful time.

Mother asked her what she had done, and Janet said, "I was in wading."

Betty and Willie played with Nancy and Todd, who lived next door. The little girls got along nicely, but the boys always quarreled and fought.

One day they were pitching into each other worse than ever and couldn't be made to stop.

"Your brother is the baddest boy in the whole world," Betty shouted at Betty.

"He is the second baddest, your brother is the first baddest," Betty vehemently corrected Nancy.

Slashed in the Fashion of the Hawaiian Belle

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—Shadows of the south seas—these are being reflected perpetually in the glass of fashion. Hawaii, for example! One or two of the French dressmakers seem to have decided that you couldn't do better than by leading over a few Hawaiian fashion journals and applying that gleaned wisdom to Ciro's and the Ritz.

The result of this is that Calot has scored a tremendous success with her evening model with its skirt slashed all about in the fashion of the Hawaiian belle. This skirt opens over a foundation of silver cloth and the slashed sections above are edged with fringe in silver and the color of the gown.

Whether it be Hawaiian or Spanish or mid-Victorian, whatever be its fount, there is no doubt of the vogue of the fringe. Of course, this does not mean one sees it all the time. But always its appearance seems associated with smartness.

Today we show a charming model that utilizes the fringe idea in an adorable little shoulder cape pointed in shape and extending farther on one side than on the other. This cape is formed of the satin side of the violet crepe back satin achieving the frock, and it is slashed into strips slightly more than an inch wide. At the side there is an inserted section of the same satin side which is topped by a wide band of cut steel ornaments extending across the entire front of the model. The same ornaments are employed as a banding for the neck line.

GOOPS! A Daily Lesson in Manners for Children BY GELETT BURGESS

MAKING FACES. This little girl with such grimaces Should be ashamed of making faces. For then she's ugly, it is true, Not only out—but inside, too! But still she makes them every-where— She is a Goop, and Goops don't care.

COOLIDGE IS SET AGAINST CALLING SPECIAL SESSION

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—[Special.]—President Coolidge has no intention of calling a special session of congress in the spring for the consideration of farm legislation. At the White House it was declared that the President believes sufficient time remains before March 4 for the enactment of farm legislation if there is an emergency warranting it. He thinks that the members of congress from agricultural sections can get legislation at this session if it is necessary. If these members fail to get action the President will regard that the situation does not warrant the calling of an extra session.

- 14 The population of Los Angeles has now passed the 1,000,000 mark.

THERE is more to California than just flowers and sunshine and summer skies and seas. More to be enjoyed than the greatest playground on earth. More to be afforded than an opportunity for rest and relaxation.

A trip to California is an investment, for one thing—in added and more enjoyable years of life. Money cannot buy more than this.

And California, for you now, is also an investment in happiness. It is the happiness that comes from outdoor living, from inspiring mountains, from smiling flowers, from change.

Change is the spice of life. To do the usual continually is to grow old quickly. Perhaps that explains why people seem to find youth in California—it is a different land.

What to do here—well, almost anything you want.

On all sides are old missions, deserts, orange groves, strange flowers, trees and vegetation. And five thousand miles of motor boulevards, paved like city streets, connecting everything.

Rest? Within two hours you're in a log cabin among the trees beside a mile-high lake, in the great majestic quiet of the mountains.

Men, women, children—all are captivated because it furnishes what each likes best. Southern California is the land for every age. It's the new height to which you can climb from out of your old rut.

Come see for yourself how wonderful it is now—this winter. Or come this Spring so that you may be present for the wonderful outdoor Easter sunrise services—a unique spiritual refreshment. Remain as long as you will and find always life at its best—mild, balmy winters; cool, pleasant summers. Come and see!

Any railroad ticket agent can tell you all about it. Or mail coupon below to us.

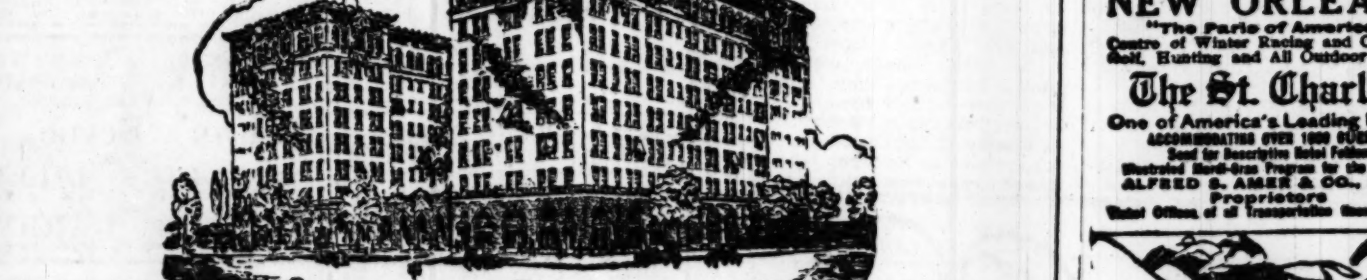

California does not tax the personal property of visitors and tourists. California has no state income tax. California's inheritance tax law applies only to investments within the State. If you are interested in further facts regarding California's favorable tax laws, write for our "Special Tax Circular."

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK

Table with columns for livestock types (Hogs, Cattle, Sheep), receipts, and prices. Includes sub-sections for 'RECEIPTS' and 'MARKET'.

Sixty thousand fewer hogs arrived yesterday than Monday's total of 101,877, the second largest on record. This marked falling off in receipts and an advanced estimate of only 20,000 for the week added tone to yesterday's market, which opened strong and closed 10¢ higher. Shippers purchased nearly half of the 41,000 received, being the best of the season. Late in the season a load of 121 hogs butchers went to Morris at $10.55, the top of the market, and within 15¢ of last week's high point. General advance price moved up 10¢ to $10.55, with most traders expecting a further gain in values in the near future. More activity and 10¢ to 15¢ advances in prices featured the cattle trade yesterday. Moderate receipts and improvement in the market for dressed beef stimulated the trade on suitable grades of live steers, which in spots reflected as much as 25¢ gain, comparing extremes with Monday's low time. Top price for load lots at $12.50 secured 1,029 lb yearlings, with 1,000 steers and heifers mixed at $11.00. Nine 1,148 lb yearlings sold at $11.00, which was no criterion. Best 1,480 lb steers brought $10.75. The strict embargo on poultry in the east sent valuations of calves up to $10.00 here, with a few 1400 lb vealers at $10.00, equaling last year's top. Butcher stock showed little change. Stockers and feeders strong.

Large numbers of "directs" from Colorado swelled sheep receipts beyond normal this far this week. With today's supply estimated at 74,000 following 12,000 "directs," offerings first of the week promise to total 57,000, or 15,000 more than receipts first three days of last week. Market for fat stock yesterday following a steady opening, with best selling at $18.75 late in the day, against $19.00 at the start. Feeding lambs were more liberal at steady prices, good 7000 pounders bringing 47¢-50¢. Fat caged sheep ranged from 25¢ to 26¢. Good 120 lb wethers brought $11.00.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 13,000 hogs, and 7,000 sheep, the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

OFFICIAL WEATHER FORECAST

Table with columns for location, weather conditions, and temperature ranges. Includes sections for 'Place of observation' and 'Forecast'.

Chicago stocks were less active yesterday and developed no important changes in the more active issues. Stewart-Warner declined 1/2¢ and All-American Radio was 1/2¢ lower. Hupp closed off 1/4¢ and Union Carbide and Phosphor were off 1/4¢ each. Swift closed unchanged. The recent decline in Hartman was reflected in the action of the directors in reducing the dividend statement was 1/2¢ lower. The decline in Wahl was reflected in the dividend statement showing losses, although the stock yesterday advanced 1/4¢ and no par, a point each. Public Service 1/4¢ preferred, 1 1/2¢. Midland Steel Products was of 1/2¢ and Murray Manufacturing declined a point.

BY SCRUTATOR

The metropolitan district of Chicago, which from a telephone standpoint, consists of the counties of Cook, Lake, DuPage, Kane, Kendall, McHenry, Will and Grundy in Illinois, and Lake in Indiana will have a population of 6,600,000 in 1950, according to an estimate presented in an address to the Society of Business Analysts yesterday by R. Thurston, engineer of surveys of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. It would be superfluous to recount the amazing success of the telephone industry in forecasting and growth. It has spent scores of millions on the basis of its forecasts, and has met the demand for service everywhere. Space is lacking to tell of the methods on the statistical technique and the telephone company would confer a favor upon Chicago if it printed and distributed this address.

SUGAR MARKETS

Chicago, Feb. 3.—Raw sugar was unchanged today with additional sales of 400,000 bags for Rio and 20,000 for Cuba. Raw futures weakened under account. Prices were 1 to 1 1/2 points lower. Refined was less active, with all grades at the 60¢ level for the grade. Refined futures were unchanged with prices following:

BY ARTHUR SEARS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 3.—Chicago's initial plan involving the diversion of water from Lake Michigan, and the gulf waterway project, increasing importance of west, were brought to the attention of the Senate today.

The principal developments pertaining to these projects are: 1. An application for withdrawal of 10,000 cubic feet of water from Lake Michigan with Secretary of War members of the Senate to preserve the health of the gulf waterway.

2. Attorneys for the state made plans to petition the United States Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus for the state of Illinois. 3. A select committee of the Senate to investigate the Chicago drainage canal, Mississippi river from Cairo as a part of the gulf waterway.

4. The committee just announced its plan for the use of lake water for a proposed any lowering of the water level of Lake Michigan at Chicago diversions at Niagara and on the lakes.

5. The committee decided to hold a second at Chicago to discuss the maintenance of the waterway. Chicago is expected to have a diversion of 10,000 cubic feet of water.

Submitted Report to the Senate. In support of their plan, the committee submitted three documents: a report of the engineering boards which the Chicago sanitary district has submitted to the Senate, a statement of the Chicago drainage canal, and a report of the Chicago sanitary district.

Previously, the district by President Lawrence Special Counsel George H. spent three hours discussing the situation in all the districts.

At the conclusion of the session, Mr. King said that the war department had a complete and full of all the facts and the engineers would make a report to Secretary of War.

According to the statement of fact, the district proposed to expend $100,000 for sewage treatment the next thirty years, and $100,000 to be expended in twenty year program.

In this connection, it was agreed that a report would be made to the Chicago, but the whole report was not made.

In order to do the President King said it was not only to borrow money but that the legislature take action, increasing throughout the district $100 of assessed value.

This boost in taxation will make the per capita Chicago 24 cents above the average in all cities above $100.

The estimated population of Chicago in 1945, at the completion of the first part of the report, will be 2,000,000. (Continued on page 16.)
